Media Information

CREDENTIALS: Working press credentials for Carolina home games can be obtained by contacting Rick Brewer in the Sports Information Office. Brewer's mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

Requests are screened with care to insure a working press box. Children, spouses and pets are not allowed in compliance with the working code of the Football Writers Association of America.

FILING COPY: The Department of Athletics furnishes a number of telephones for writers to use in moving their copy from the press box. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Southern Bell in Chapel Hill.

The Carolina Sports Information Office has one telecopier which will be available for sending copy. An operator's fee of $10 per game will be charged for its use. This fee will cover the cost of a student assistant staying late to send copy. It is strongly suggested, however, that if at all possible, newsmen covering games in Kenan Stadium bring their own telecopiers. This will allow all copy to be moved more quickly and will alleviate any deadline problems.

PRESS BOX SERVICES: Programs, flip cards and statistics will be provided before each game. A play-by-play will be distributed at the conclusion of each quarter. Halftime statistics will also be available. Complete team and individual statistics, a scoring summary and coaches' quotes will be provided after the game.

Lunch will be served on the third level of the press box before each game and at halftime. Soft drinks and coffee are available on the second level (writers' area) throughout the game.

SIDELINE POLICY: Photographers will not be allowed on the sidelines without an armband. Armbands can be picked up in the press box prior to the game. Each photographer must pick up his or her own armband.

INTERVIEWS: Each Tuesday during the football season Dick Crum will be available to the media at a press luncheon. Television and radio tapes can be done at 11:30 a.m. with lunch being served at noon. The press conference follows the meal.

Player interviews can be arranged by contacting the Sports Information Office. Generally, interviews will be set up in Kenan Fieldhouse. However, Carolina's actual locker room is closed to the press during the season except on Saturdays following games. Player interviews are not allowed on Fridays preceding games.

RADIO NETWORK AND TV SHOW: Over 60 stations in three states will once again carry the Tar Heel Football Network. The network is operated by Village Companies of Chapel Hill with Diane Smith as manager and Jim Heavner as executive producer. Woody Durham handles the play-by-play work.

The Carolina Football Show will be televised across the state of North Carolina each Sunday. The show features Crum and highlights of the previous game. John Kilgo serves as host.

1986 A Prospectus

Brad Lopp returns as Carolina's starting fullback after rushing for 407 yards last fall. He could also be used at tailback this season.

The return of 14 starters and 44 lettermen from last year gives North Carolina high hopes for an improved football team in 1986.

However, the Tar Heels must develop more consistency if they are to avoid the problems that plagued them during last fall's 5-6 season.

Carolina, which won 45 games between 1979 and 1983, has won only 10 times in the last two years. Injuries to key personnel have been a factor in that, but Coach Dick Crum says there have also been other reasons.

"Two years ago we were simply an inexperienced football team," he says. "We had more experience last year, but we did not play with the consistency we needed. We must show improvement in that area this season."

The Tar Heels played well at times last year in losses to LSU and Florida State, two of the best teams in the South, and scored a dramatic 21-20 come-from-behind victory over Clemson. However, a chance for a successful season ended with a 24-22 defeat at Virginia and a 23-21 setback to Duke in the last two games of the year.

"The end of the season was especially disappointing," says Crum. "I thought we had made progress until those final two games, even though we had lost four times. But, we did not perform close to our capabilities against Virginia or Duke."

"I thought we bounced back from that pretty well and did a good job in spring practice. The kids showed a lot of enthusiasm and really worked hard. Now we need to go into the new season with that same kind of attitude."

Crum heads into the fall with specific goals for both his offensive and defensive units.

"Offensively, we must do a better job of controlling the football than we did last year," he says. "We left the defense on the field too much in several games. That goes back to simply lacking consistency and an offensive rhythm."

"We played very well at times on defense last season, but we must play that way for an entire game. Again, we need more consistency."

"We're still a young football team and, with more experience, I think we can develop that consistency we need. Certainly, we have the talent to be a good team. There's no question in my mind about that."

That talent is headed by offensive tackle Harris Barton, a 6-4, 283-pound senior from Atlanta, Ga., who should be one of the best players in the college game. An excellent all-around athlete, Barton could be a dominating player at any position in the offensive interior. He lines up at left tackle for Carolina, the key pass-blocking spot in the Tar Heel passing game.

Barton has not previously received much national attention because of the presence in the Atlantic Coast Conference last year of three senior tackles who were rated as top NFL draft choices—Jim Dombrowski of Virginia, J.D. Maarleveld of Maryland and N.C. State's Joe Milinichik. Now, with those three gone, Barton himself is being highly-touted by professional scouts and should be the ACC's best lineman.

He heads up an offensive line which, while not greatly experienced, does have good possibilities. Opposite Barton at right tackle is Creighton Incorminias, a 6-4, 294-pound sophomore from Hampton, Va. Incorminias moved into the starting lineup late last year as a true freshman. Another important figure at this spot could be 6-7, 282-pound sophomore Darrell Hamilton of Washington, D.C. He was a starter until suffering a knee injury early last fall. If he can return to his old form, he would get playing time somewhere.

Jeff Garnica, a 6-4, 250-pound sophomore from Kettering, Ohio, returns at center where he started down the stretch last season. Crum regards him as one of the ACC's best young linemen and a potential all-star candidate.

There was great competition for the two guard positions during spring practice and that should continue into the pre-season drills. Starters going into the fall are Tim Brooks, a 6-4, 275-pound sophomore from Davidsonville, Md., and Pat Crowley, a 6-3, 285-pound red-shirt freshman from Hampton Bays, N.Y. Also contending for playing time are Steve Steinbacher, a 6-3, 275-pound sophomore from Newtown Square, Pa., and Ralph Phifer, a 6-2, 275-pound junior from Mooresville, N.C. Phifer saw a great deal of action at center last year before being shifted to guard in the off-season.

Working behind this line will be Jonathan Hall, a 6-2, 200-pound sophomore from Vienna, Va., who was Carolina's starting quarterback in the last three games of 1985. Hall has good athletic ability and big-play potential. He played as a true freshman last year and, thus, still needs more experience.

Sophomore Mike Bowman of the Bronx, N.Y. got a lot of work in the spring and will be the top backup. However, he has never been in a college game.

The status of Mark Maye, a junior from Charlotte, N.C., remains unknown. Maye underwent shoulder surgery in the spring of 1985 and missed all of last season. He began throwing again last spring, but the extent of his recovery won't be known until fall workouts. If he's healthy, he should push for playing time.

William Humes, a 6-0, 198-pound senior from Asheville, N.C., returns as the starting tailback. Slowed by injuries, Humes led the Tar Heels in rushing last year with only 515 yards. That snapped a string of 12 consecutive years in which Carolina had produced at least one 1,000-yard rusher. Humes is capable of being an explosive player, but must stay healthy.

Crum also experimented with Brad Lopp at tailback during the spring. Lopp is the Tar Heels' returning starter at fullback. A 6-1, 208-pound junior from Jefferson, N.C., Lopp is an excellent all-around back. He goes into the fall as the starter at fullback and the top backup at tailback.

Derrick Fenner, a 6-4, 220-pound sophomore, who saw spot action at tailback last season, and red-shirt freshman Clarence Carter are other possibilities there.

Handling the fullback job will be Lopp, sophomore James Thompson and former tight end Tripp Hardy. Thompson and Hardy were very impressive in the spring which allowed Crum to try Lopp at tailback.

Despite the loss of flanker Earl Winfield, the school's all-time leading receiver, and tight end Arnold Franklin, the receiving corp could again be a good one.

There is both depth and talent at tight end in Damon Hueston, Dave Truitt, John Keller and Daryl Parham. Truitt has the most experience, but was sidelined during the spring with a finger injury. Hueston heads into the new season as the starter, but all four will get playing time.

Split end Eric Streater, who had four touchdown catches last year, heads up the wide receivers. Other key performers are Quint Smith, Eric Lewis and Randy Marriott.

Defensively, Carolina's strength may be in the line where a pair of potential All-America candidates anchor the Tar Heels' eight-man front alignment. Tackle Reuben Davis and nose man Tim Goad both possess the ability to contend for national all-star honors.

Davis, a 6-3, 280-pound junior from Greensboro, N.C., was an All-ACC selection as just a sophomore last year. He has great quickness and strength. Goad, a 6-4, 275-pound junior from Claudville, Va., is an outstanding pass rusher. He led the Tar Heels in sacks and quarterback pressures last fall.

However, Davis won't even be a starter going into pre-season workouts. He missed spring practice with a neck injury, allowing sophomore Kubi Kalombo to grab the starting spot. While Davis is expected to win his job back, Kalombo is an excellent athlete who will get playing time.

Noel McEachern returns at end with veteran Ron Burton and former strong safety Joel Freeze battling him for the starting role. Donnie Wallace, a 6-3, 275-pound junior from Everetts, N.C., has moved from tackle to a starting spot at guard. Coaches are hopeful that Dennis Barron, injured in the season opener last year, has recovered from knee problems and will also be available there.

Brett Rudolph, a 6-2, 228-pound junior from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, returns at one linebacker. He is a bruising hitter with a nose for the football and could be the latest in a long line of standout Tar Heel performers at that position.

Sophomore Mitch Wike, who lettered as a special teams player last year, won the other linebacking job, vacated by Carl Carr, with a strong performance in the spring. Crum is counting on the rapid development of some younger players to provide depth at those spots.

Carolina is set at strong safety with the return of Norris Davis and Walter Bailey on one side and Howard Feggins and Antonio Goss at the other. Davis, in particular, could be a big-play performer. The 6-1, 211-pound junior from Reston, Va. ranks as one of the Tar Heels' top all-star candidates.

Derrick Donald returns at left cornerback, but right corner Larry Griffin and free safety Darryl Johnson are both gone. Griffin won All-ACC honors last year. His leadership and ability will be missed.

Moving in to Griffin's old position will be red-shirt freshman Skeet Baldwin with sophomore Jim Jauch in reserve. Danny Burmeister, who has played well on special teams, is the likely starter at free safety ahead of newcomer Dan Vooletich.

Place-kickers Lee Gliarmis and Kenny Miller are both back. Coaches are looking for more consistency from them and their exact roles won't be defined until pre-season drills are underway.

A major concern is replacing All-ACC punter Tommy Barnhardt, the team's most valuable player last fall. Miller is the top candidate there.

"We have a lot of work to do, but I like this team's promise," says Crum. "The schedule is demanding, but I believe we're going to be a good football team."

Numeral Roster

(This roster includes all varsity and freshman players. There are some duplicate numbers simply because Carolina has more players than numbers. However, in all cases of duplication, one player is on offense and the other defense. Final positions for the freshmen will be decided when they arrive on campus this fall. There could be some number changes at that time.)

What Crum Says About:

SPRING PRACTICE

"Some things happened in the spring which have made me feel very positive about the upcoming season. This group worked longer and harder than any with which I've ever been associated. But, I didn't hear any complaining. The kids were enthusiastic and that was a good indication to me of their desire to improve as football players.

"We had good competition at a number of positions. Anytime you have that, the competing players will get better.

"I also saw some leadership start to emerge. We're still going to be a young football team this fall and we've got to have leadership from our older guys in order to be successful."

THE OFFENSE

"We will have better balance between the run and pass than we did last year. We had worked so hard to improve our passing game in the spring of 1985 that we may have put too much emphasis on it early in the fall. We set some passing records, but we had trouble getting the ball in the end zone.

"Plus, all the time we had spent preparing to throw the ball probably hurt our running game. When we went to it, it wasn't as effective as it needed to be.

"Well, we worked a lot on running the ball this past spring and that part of our attack is getting back to where it used to be. We still plan to throw the football a great deal, but we certainly are going to run the ball more than we did last year. That will only make our passing game even more effective."

HARRIS BARTON

"He is an outstanding offensive lineman, one of the best we've had here and we've been fortunate to have some pretty good ones. He has great work habits. That's one of the big reasons he's gotten better every year he's been here—he has worked at it constantly.

"His biggest problem is that he's too critical of himself at times. He's such an intense competitor that he gets upset when he makes the slightest mistake. He keeps thinking he's going to play the absolute perfect game and finds it hard to believe that's impossible."

THE TAILBACK SITUATION

"If William Humes can play 11 games for us without getting hurt, we shouldn't have any problems at tailback. He has great ability, but because of injuries he still hasn't put everything together.

"We moved Brad Lopp from fullback to tailback for the last two weeks of the spring and he did an excellent job. We were able to make that switch because James Thompson and Tripp Hardy had come on so well at fullback. I'm confident they can do the job at fullback for us if needed.

"I imagine we'll open with Lopp at fullback and Humes at tailback. But, now we know Brad can play tailback. He and William should give us a good one-two punch there. They will probably carry the load for us in the early going.

"That doesn't mean everybody else is out of the picture. Clarence Carter had a good spring and Derrick Fenner could also be a factor. They'll get their opportunity again in pre-season practice."

THE QUARTERBACKS

"I think we're going to have a two and possibly three-way race for the quarterback job.

"I thought Jonathan Hall did some nice things for us late last season and he made good improvement in the spring.

"Mike Bowman probably came the furthest of all our quarterbacks in the spring. He really made some strides. He didn't pass Hall, but he made up a lot of ground. He's going to play some for us.

"We won't know anything on Mark Maye's status until pre-season practice. He's been out of competition for over a year while recuperating from his shoulder injury. All of us know he can be a fine player if he has fully recovered."

THE DEFENSE

"We're still going to be young on defense, but we'll be playing with some experience. Up front we have good potential and depth. The same is true at strong safety. Linebacker and the secondary are the spots we're especially going to need some younger kids to develop for us.

"Reuben Davis and Dennis Barron weren't able to take part in the spring and they are two of the best linemen in the Atlantic Coast Conference. But, their absence gave some other guys a lot of playing time and they took advantage of it. Donnie Wallace had a good spring, probably his best ever, and I was very impressed with Kubi Kalombo. Tim Goad could be a great player for us at the nose position. He's started now for just over a season and has gotten better and better.

"I really believe Brett Rudolph is going to be one of the best linebackers we've had here. Mitch Wike came out of the pack to win the other linebacker spot in the spring and his play will be a key for us defensively."

STRENGTHS

"The strength of this team might be on defense. We have a lot of experience there and we've developed depth in the defensive line and at strong safety.

"I also like this team's enthusiasm. In a game as tough as football, enthusiasm and a positive attitude mean a great deal. It's tough to be successful without those."

CONCERNS

"We've got as tough a schedule as we've ever played. There are so many big games on the road—at Kansas, at Florida State, at Wake Forest, at LSU, at Clemson and at Duke. It's tough enough playing our home opponents. Add those road games to the schedule and it's certainly a challenging one.

"Our kicking game is also up in the air. We're really going to miss Tommy Barnhardt. We've been fortunate to have some outstanding punters here—Barnhardt, Steve Streater, Jeff Hayes. It's going to be tough for somebody to give us that same type of kicking."

THE OVERALL VIEW

"I think we're going to be an exciting football team. We should have more offensive weapons than we've had in the last couple of years. Defensively, we have some guys—Norris Davis, Tim Goad, Reuben Davis, Brett Rudolph—who can be dominating players.

"The schedule is demanding, but we have the ability to be very competitive."

Coach Dick Crum looks on as William Humes scores a touchdown with 10 seconds to play against Clemson last season. An extra point by Lee Gliarmis gave Carolina a 21-20 victory.

Richard Applebaum

Nose Man
6-3, 261, Freshman
Atlantic Beach, N.Y.

A red-shirt freshman whose progress has been slowed by injury... Hurt a knee early in spring practice... Missed most of the off-season drills... Did show he has good quickness and explosiveness... Gets off the ball well... A backup at the nose position... Needs experience... Has a good future here... Was a two-way lineman at Lawrence High School... Played on teams there which compiled a three-year record of 25-4... Had 99 tackles as a senior, including 11 sacks... Recovered five fumbles and blocked four PATs and three field goals... All-conference, all-league and all-state... All-Long Island and All-Nassau County selection... Team captain as a senior... Also was Nassau County shot put champion in 1985... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born June 20, 1967.

Walter Bailey

Strong Safety
6-1, 208, Senior
Hampton, Va.

Expected to be one of the team leaders... Set to see action at strong safety and also rates as one of the squad's top special teams players... Played as a backup at strong safety last season... A starter at cornerback in 1984 until suffering a knee injury in the seventh game of the year at Memphis State... That injury kept him out of spring practice in 1985 and left him behind the other players at the new strong safety spot to which he had been shifted... As his knee got stronger last season, his play got better and better... Did a very good job down the stretch... Had four solo tackles, four assists and a tackle for a loss at Maryland... Then was in on 23 total hits, including 12 solo tackles, in the final three games... Did a great job in spring practice... Seemed to finally regain most of the speed he had lost in his knee injury... A highly spirited player... There's never a dull day at practice with him there... Always works hard on the field... A good all-around football player... Reacts well and has good instincts... A tough and aggressive hitter... An excellent competitor who understands the game well... Won the Steve Streater Award as the most enthusiastic defensive player in the spring... Has a lot of experience and will be a factor in defensive plans this fall... Will probably split time at strong safety with Norris Davis... Was really beginning to show signs of developing into a top-flight defensive back in 1984 when he was injured... Played a great game at Clemson that year with eight solo tackles and four assists... Recovered a fumble which set up a touchdown against Kansas... Also returned 14 punts that season for 76 yards and a 5.4 average... A red-shirt freshman in 1982, he played in a reserve role in 1983... Saw a lot of action late that season, especially in passing situations... Made one of the biggest plays of the year in the finale against Duke with a fumble-causing tackle in the fourth quarter... Carolina recovered and moved for the winning touchdown in a 34-27 victory... Was a three-year regular as a defensive back and running back at Bethel High School... Rushed for 1,062 yards as a senior... Had 33 career interceptions, including 12 in his senior season... Named to the Parade All-America team on offense and to the National High School Coaches Association All-America squad as a safety... Selected one of 1981's top five high school players in Virginia by the ROANOKE TIMES... Also lettered in track at Bethel... A recreation major... Born October 31, 1963.

Skeet Baldwin

Cornerback
5-10, 185, Freshman
Chapel Hill, N.C.

One of the surprises of spring practice... Red-shirted last fall and went into the off-season drills as the number three right cornerback... But, by the end of the spring he had surfaced as the top player at that position... Goes into the fall as the starter there, the spot left vacant by the loss of all-conference performer Larry Griffin... Played on the scout team last year... Did a good job and improved as a player... Then had his fine spring... Has outstanding tools and instincts... Possesses exceptional quickness... Demonstrated an ability to be a playmaker in the spring... At some point could possibly be a dominating defensive player... Experience and playing time will give him an opportunity to achieve that... First player signed by Dick Crum's staff from Chapel Hill High School... A three-year starter there at tailback... Started in the secondary as a sophomore and junior, but played as a reserve as a senior... Still had seven interceptions... Associated Press all-state choice as a defensive back... One of only two players named All-Big Six Conference on both offense and defense... Led the Tigers in rushing, receiving, touchdowns and interceptions... Also lettered in basketball, baseball and track, winning all-conference honors in track... Enrolled in pre-business courses... Born November 29, 1966.

Dennis Barron

Defensive Guard
6-3, 275, Senior
Wilson, N.C.

Veteran lineman who missed almost the entire 1985 season with a knee injury... Tore knee ligaments in the season opener at Navy... Was in on just 21 plays before being hurt... Had gone into the year as one of Carolina's top all-star candidates... Had been sensational in pre-season drills... Has worked hard to rehabilitate his knee... Did not take part in spring practice... Coaches are hopeful he will be able to pick up this fall where he left off a year ago... His return would be a big boost to the defense... Possesses excellent size and strength... Has good speed and quickness... Has worked in his time at Carolina to become a more physical player... Good pass rusher... Has a nose for the football and good awareness of what's happening on the field at all times... A very popular player and should be a team leader this fall... Was a starter most of the 1984 season... Split playing time at guard with Carlton Baily... Played a fine game against N.C. State with six tackles and three assists... Also got in on seven other hits that day... Had five solo tackles at Duke, including one for a big eight-yard loss... Saw considerable action in a reserve role in 1983... Played quite a bit in passing situations that year and responded by forcing six hurried throws... Was red-shirted as a freshman in 1982... Won Parade All-America honors at Beddingfield High... Played defensive tackle, line-backer and tight end there... Three times an all-area selection... Twice an All-East and all-conference choice... Associated Press and GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state pick as a senior... Named one of the five top players in North Carolina by the ROANOKE TIMES... Won three letters in football and two in track... Selected for the East-West All-Star Game... Competed in the shot put at Carolina in 1985, but was unable to do so last year because of his injury... Majoring in recreation... Born December 31, 1963.

Harris Barton
Offensive Tackle
6-4, 283, Senior
Atlanta, Ga.

Heads into the fall as Carolina's top all-star candidate... A dominating player at left tackle who should contend for All-America honors... Latest in a long line of brilliant Tar Heel offensive linemen... May not be as well known nationally as some other players, but has had a sensational career... A dynamic performer last season, but was overshadowed by a group of senior tackles in the Atlantic Coast Conference who were rated highly by NFL scouts—Jim Dombrowski, Joe Milinichik and JD Maarleveld... However, is now seen as a first-round draft selection himself... Rated by his coaches as the ACC's premier offensive lineman... Capable of excelling at any of the interior blocking positions... Set to begin his fourth year as a starter... Still has outstanding work habits... Takes pride in his play... Plays hard and practices hard... Won the Shelton Robinson Award last spring for the second straight year as the best all-around blocker in the off-season work... Also was presented the Charlie Justice Award as the most outstanding offensive player in the spring... Works constantly to improve as a player and continues to do just that... Has gotten bigger and stronger since last season... Added 15 pounds over the winter... One of the team's strongest players... Possesses great speed and quickness for a man of his size... Very mobile... Alert on the field... A highly motivated and goal-oriented person... His tremendous inner drive gives him the perfect temperament for an offensive lineman... Tough mentally and physically... Fundamentally sound and comes to play every down... A natural leader... A dominating player who can turn a game around... Great pass protector... Also a key performer in the running game with his dynamic one-on-one blocking ability... Had a tremendous season in 1985... Started every game and led a young offensive line which featured three new starters... His leadership up front will again be vital this year as none of the other probable starters in the interior blocking spots have ever started more than three college games... Began his college career as a center... Started every game of the 1983 season at that spot as a red-shirt freshman... Had never snapped a ball in a game until then, but did an excellent job... Played very well against some of the best nose guards in the South... Slowed by a ankle injury early in 1984, he was shifted to left tackle at mid-meason because of injuries there... Remained at that position for the remainder of the year and played very well... With more defenses using even-man fronts, Carolina coaches felt Barton's skills could best be used at tackle and he was left there... His left tackle position is the key blocking one in the Tar Heel passing game... Has handled it superbly... Would have eventually won all-star honors had he been left at center, probably before now... However, his unselfishness in making the position change has strengthened the Carolina line... A big-league player in every way... Played offensive and defensive tackle at Dunwoody High School... All-county, all-metro and all-state as a senior... Named his team's most valuable player that season... Won three letters in football, one in basketball and one in wrestling... Has worked for a stock broker in Atlanta each of the past two summers... A fine student who is majoring in business administration... Made the All-ACC Academic Team last year... Takes his studies seriously and his football, too... Born April 19, 1964.

Joe Boggs
Strong Safety
5-11, 194, Senior
Statesville N.C.

Came to Carolina without a scholarship, but has become a factor in the Tar Heel program... Did an excellent job in spring practice... Played both strong safety positions... Has worked to become a good football player... Has improved his overall athletic skills in the last year... Better speed is particularly noticeable... Will play on all the special teams... Also could see action behind Norris Davis and Walter Bailey at strong safety... Got some playing time on special teams last year... However, most of his contributions have come on the scout team in practice... A hard worker with a great attitude... Won the Mike Chatham Award as the top walk-on in spring practice in 1985... His brother, David, played here two years ago... Majoring in industrial relations... Born May 10, 1965.

Randolph Bowers

Fullback
6-0, 194, Freshman
Little Mountain, S.C.

Worked at both fullback and tailback in the spring... Goes into the fall as a reserve at fullback, but could also be used at the other spot... Capable of being a good player... A hard worker who wants to do well... Has good speed and is a tough runner... Can break tackles, but still needs to get a little bit stronger... Made some big plays in the spring running the ball... Had a 57-yard run in the Blue-White Game... Needs to work on his blocking... Inexperienced right now and needs repetitions on the practice field to be a more polished player... Red-shirted as a freshman last year... Won 12 letters in football, soccer and track at Chapin High School... Four-year starter at safety and running back... Team captain as a senior, rushing for 1,482 yards and scoring 23 touchdowns... Two-time all-conference selection... All-state and all-area as a senior... COLUMBIA RECORD Player of the Year and WIS Player of the Year... Lexington County Athlete of the Year... A starter in the 1984 Shrine Bowl and had two interceptions... Four-year starter in soccer and three times an all-state pick in track... Set school records in the shot, discus and 200... Third in the shot at the National Junior Olympics... Captain of his track team... Conference athlete of the year as a junior and senior... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born March 21, 1967.

Mike Bowman

Quarterback
6-3, 213, Sophomore
Bronx, N.Y.

Goes into the fall as the backup quarterback... Made good progress in the spring... Worked at times with the number one offensive unit... Big and strong... Has a lot of talent... Possesses excellent arm strength and is very accurate... Also has fine running ability... Has speed and good agility... Has improved his work habits and become a more disciplined football player... Still needs to work in those areas... Has good leadership qualities... Has a flair for getting other players to respond to him... Confident and plays with a lot of enthusiasm... Won the Kelvin Bryant Award as the most enthusiastic offensive player in spring practice... Completed five of six passes in the spring game for 84 yards and one touchdown... Did not get any playing time last year... Was red-shirted in 1984... With maturity and time under center, he can be a very good quarterback... Won four football letters at Riverdale County School... Twice selected all-city quarterback by the NEW YORK DAILY NEWS... Chosen co-player of the year in the state as a senior by the New York State Sports Writers Association... Completed 70 of 120 passes for 1,100 yards and nine touchdowns... Ran for 650 yards, averaging 9.5 yards a rush, and scored 18 TDs... Finished his career with over 3,200 yards passing on teams which were 20-5... Riverdale was the number one team in the state among small schools his senior year... Team co-captain... Also lettered four times in basketball and twice each in lacrosse and baseball... League MVP and team co-captain as a senior in basketball... First-team all-conference in lacrosse as a junior and senior... Named Riverdale's top male athlete as a senior... His father is a surgeon... Majoring in economics... Born March 10, 1966.

Bryan Bridges

Center
6-3, 276, Freshman
Greenville, N.C.

A non-scholarship player who could eventually be a factor in the offensive line... Worked at guard and center in spring practice... Has good strength and is a fine pass blocker... Needs a better understanding of the Carolina system... Should get that because he has very good work habits... Listed as a backup at center going into the new season... Red-shirted last year... Was a tackle and place-kicker at Greenville Rose High School... Played football four years there and was team captain as a senior... All-conference and all-area choice... Also competed in basketball, baseball, tennis, swimming and track... Represented his hometown at Boy's State... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born March 7, 1967.

Tim Brooks

Offensive Guard
6-4, 275, Sophomore
Davidsonville, Md.

Won the Ken Huff Award as the most improved offensive player in spring practice... Did an exceptional job in the off-season drills... Moved into a starting role at left guard... Played behind Harris Barton at left tackle last season, but was switched to guard in the spring... Saw some action last year in the offensive line and on special teams... Was red-shirted in 1984... Possesses outstanding strength... Works very hard in the weight room... Has excellent work habits on the practice field, too... A very intense competitor... A good, tough, one-on-one blocker... Came to Carolina from South River High School where he was a three-year starter in the offensive and defensive lines... Played on teams which compiled a 25-6 record, won a regional championship in his junior year and a county title when he was a senior... All-county as a junior and senior... All-state as a senior at defensive tackle... Also won letters in track and tennis... Set the South River shot put record and was the number one singles player for three years... Captain of both his football and tennis teams as a senior... Majoring in criminal justice... Born January 25, 1966.

Victor Bullock
Cornerback
6-0, 178, Freshman
Henderson, N.C.

Spent last fall on the scout team as a red-shirt freshman... Did a fine job there and began to develop a good understanding of the Carolina defensive system... Had an injury which did not allow him to perform the first two weeks of spring practice... However, when he did get on the field, he made up a lot of ground in a short period of time... Was impressive in the time he practiced... Highlight of the spring for him was the Blue-White Game... Intercepted two passes... Showed the potential to make the big play under game conditions... With continued development, he will be a fine player... In the battle for playing time this fall... Working behind Derrick Donald at left cornerback... Also could be used to return punts... Played quarterback and free safety at Vance High School... Lettered three times in football and played on two conference championship teams... Chosen his school's best athlete as a senior... Passed for 1,327 yards and 14 touchdowns... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Threw for North Carolina's first touchdown in that game, sparking a big comeback from a 28-0 deficit... Also won three letters in basketball... A speech major... Born November 18, 1966.

Danny Burmeister
Free Safety
6-2, 201, Senior
Morristown, N.J.

Heads into the new season as the starting free safety... Won that job by having an outstanding spring... Has not been a prominent player in the past, but has become one with hard work and determination... Red-shirted as a freshman wide receiver in 1982... Missed the entire 1983 season after breaking a leg the previous spring... Moved to cornerback midway in the 1984 season and played that position again last fall... Did not see much playing time in the secondary, but made some major contributions as a special teams player... Moved to free safety last spring in order to give Carolina a mature player at that spot and offset the loss of Darryl Johnson and Tim Morrison... Coaches also felt that would be his best spot for extensive playing time... Made a good adjustment to the new position... Should provide the savvy and leadership needed there... Has excellent speed... Smart and reliable... Never makes excuses and is a great team player... In voting by Atlantic Coast Conference head coaches, he won the Brian Piccolo Award last season as the most courageous player in the league... He received that award for coming back from his severely broken leg and also for the fact he participates in football although a diabetic... Won four football letters and three each in basketball and track at Oakton High School in Virginia... A starter at wingback and safety, he set school records for touchdowns with 23 and interceptions with 15... All-district, all-region, all-metro and all-state... Selected to the Parade All-

America team on defense and to the National High School Coaches Association team as a wide receiver... A three-year starter in basketball and team captain as a senior... Has competed in the sprints and quarter-mile on the Carolina track team... Has an older brother, Doug, who played football at Maryland... An economics major... Born September 13, 1963.

Ron Burton
Defensive End
6-1, 235, Senior
Richmond, Va.

In a battle for playing time at defensive end... Goes into the fall behind Noel McEachern and Joel Freeze at this position... However, is regarded by coaches as almost a tri-starter... Was banged up most of the spring... Didn't have a chance to really compete for the starting berth... After healing up, he made some big plays in the closing practice sessions... Worked on improving his consistency... If his consistency gets better, he'll be a big help defensively... Capable of making the big play... An excellent athlete... Has shown flashes of outstanding play in the past... Started early last season at this position and split time with McEachern down the stretch... Got off to a great start... Was in on 14 total hits, including eight solo tackles, in the opener at Navy... Also forced five hurried throws in that game with his pass rush... Had two sacks against LSU... Was on the field for only 35 plays against VMI, but was in on 10 hits... Made a big play on the goal line against Wake Forest, batting away what appeared to be a certain touchdown pass in the end zone... Carolina's third-leading tackler for the season with 106 total hits... That included 51 solo tackles and 25 assists... Also had four sacks and five tackles for losses... Caused 16 hurries by opposing quarterbacks... Had begun to come into his own late in the 1984 season... Was sensational against Virginia that year with seven solo hits, six assists, two tackles for losses and one sack... His progress prior to that had been hampered by an injury... Lettered as a special teams player in 1982 and showed fine potential then... But, tore upper-arm muscles in his right arm in the off-season and missed all of the 1983 spring practice and fall season... Had to go through an extensive rehabilitation program to get back into shape... Played on teams at Highland Springs High School which won two district championships and a regional title... Outside linebacker on defense and fullback/tight end on offense... Caught seven touchdown passes as a senior and ran for five other scores... Also intercepted four passes... All-region, all-metro and all-district on both offense and defense... All-state at linebacker... Also lettered twice in basketball... An industrial relations major... Born May 2, 1964.

Clarence Carter

Tailback
6-0, 188, Freshman
Toledo, Ohio

An elusive runner who could be a factor at tailback... Red-shirted last fall and then had a good spring... Got a lot of repetitions... Made good overall improvement... Still must be a better receiver... Needs to improve his inside running... Possesses very good quickness... Has the talent to play tailback here... Running against the top defense in the spring game, he rushed for 35 yards on seven carries... Heads into the fall as the number three man at this position... Also could be used as a kick returner... Ran for 964 yards and scored five touchdowns as a senior at Cardinal Stritch... Set school records there for career rushing yardage (2,867), single-game rushing yardage (215) and points in a season (121)... All-league, all-city and All-North Ohio... District AA Back of the Year... Second-team all-state... Selected his team's offensive MVP for three straight years... Won three letters in football, two in basketball and four in track... Enrolled in Carolina's General College... Born October 4, 1966.

Bryan Causey

Cornerback
5-8, 175, Junior
Greensboro, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who is one of the reserves at right cornerback... Hard worker with a lot of determination... Very competitive... Made some strides in the spring... Did a good job in the spring scrimmages... Just came out for football last year and doesn't have a complete understanding of the Carolina system... Not as big or as fast as many players, but is aggressive... Lettered three years as a safety at Western Guilford High School... Team captain as a junior and senior... All-conference and all-metro as a senior on a conference championship team... Also lettered twice in basketball and twice in baseball... As a senior, played on a 3-A state championship baseball team... President of his school and class valedictorian... His father, Paul, played freshman football at Carolina until sustaining a knee injury... Majoring in accounting... Born May 18, 1966.

Phillip Cheek

Defensive Tackle
6-5, 230, Freshman
Asheboro, N.C.

Fine athlete who has a good future here... Red-shirted as a freshman last season... Heads into the new year as a backup at tackle... Started to come on the last week of spring practice... Hard worker on the practice field... Wants to learn and isn't afraid to ask questions... Good pass rusher... Needs to gain strength and weight... That should come with work and normal maturation... Won three football letters at Asheboro High School... Played both offensive and defensive tackle... All-conference and All-Randolph County... Lettered twice in track... Majoring in criminal justice... Born December 6, 1966.

Dennis Clemons

Offensive Guard
6-2, 270, Sophomore
Jacksonville, Fla.

Being counted on for reserve help at right guard... Opened last season as the number one backup at that position... However, suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and got only limited playing time... Has the ability to be a good player... A good technician with fine speed... Does a good job on traps and pulling... Very effective on sweeps... Has good awareness on the field... Lacks game experience... Quiet and easy-going off the field, but a hard worker on it... Does a good job in the weight room... Red-shirted in 1984... A two-way lineman at Robert E. Lee High School... Won three letters there on teams which won three straight conference and district championships... Twice an all-city and all-conference choice... All-state as a senior after being picked to the second team as a junior... Also named to the Super 11 and Super 24 teams as a senior... Selected for the North-South All-Star Game... Also lettered three times in basketball and track... All-conference in basketball as a senior... Member of the National Honor Society and named Academic All-America in football by the National Secondary Education Council... His father, Henry, won two basketball letters at Allen University in South Carolina... Majoring in industrial relations... Born March 23, 1966.

Moses Coates
Center
6-4, 272, Freshman
Calverton, Va.

Number two center behind Jeff Garnica... Earned that spot with a good showing last spring... A full-speed player... A very intense competitor... Strength and mental toughness are his biggest assets... A battler and a hard worker... Needs to improve as a pass blocker... Has a good future and will play here... Was red-shirted as a freshman last fall... A two-way tackle at Fauquier High School where he won three football letters... Played on district championship teams in 1982 and 1983... All-Commonwealth District and All-Northwest Region... Chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... Also lettered in basketball... A biology major... Born February 18, 1967.

Tony Cooper
Deep Snapper
6-2, 195, Freshman
Henderson, N.C.

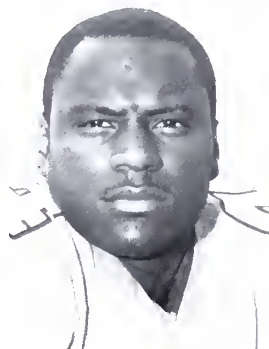

Came out of spring practice as the Tar Heel deep snapper... Will handle those duties on both punts and place-kicks... Has great work habits... Gets good velocity on the ball... Very reliable... Walk-on who was diligent on the practice field last fall... Needs to work on his overall athletic ability... Has started to do that... Gained 20 pounds in the off-season... Played at Vance High School... Majoring in math... Born February 13, 1967.

Pat Crowley
Offensive Guard
6-3, 285, Freshman
Hampton Bays, N.Y.

Had a very productive spring, winning the starting spot at right guard... Got better and better as the off-season drills went on... Expected to be challenged by Steve Steinbacher for the job in the fall, but has the ability to keep it... A very physical football player... Has size and strength... A good drive blocker... Also runs well for a big man... Good worker in the weight room... A very emotional player... Plays with a lot of intensity... A hard-nosed competitor... Has the potential to be an exceptional player... Was red-shirted last season after starting for three years at Hampton Bays High School... Played offensive tackle, defensive tackle and nose guard there... As a senior, named All-Long Island by NEWSDAY and the NEW YORK DAILY NEWS... First-team all-state on defense... All-league and all-county... Team co-captain and offensive MVP... Led his team to its first playoff berth and county championship game in history... Also lettered twice in wrestling and three times in track... All-conference and all-county heavyweight wrestler as a junior... All-conference and all-county for three straight years as a shot putter... Enrolled in the General College... Born August 29, 1967.

Norris Davis
Strong Safety
6-1, 211, Junior
Reston, Va.

Great all-around athlete who rates as a top all-star candidate... Has the ability to be as good at his position as any other defensive player in America... Moved to the secondary last season after playing wide receiver and immediately won a starting spot... Aggressiveness and excellent acceleration make him an ideal strong safety... Has size and excellent speed... Strong and packs a wallop as a hitter... Has good work habits which helped him make the position change fairly easily... Carolina's eighth-leading tackler last fall... In the first game of his career on defense, he had five solo tackles at Navy and a crucial interception... His interception with just four minutes to play set up what proved to be the winning touchdown in a 21-19 victory... Also had an interception against VMI and a spectacular diving theft at Virginia... His three interceptions tied him for fourth among the Atlantic Coast Conference leaders... Is going to get even better and better with more experience... Could be a difference-maker on defense... Seems to have a knack for the big play... Coaches knew he had great talent, but even they were surprised at just how valuable he proved to be defensively... Won the Lawrence Taylor Award this past year as the most outstanding defensive player in spring practice... Great athletic skills also will make him an important special teams player... Capable of being a truly great player... Had played on special teams in 1984 and seen spot action as a backup wide receiver... Had just one catch... Returned 13 kickoffs for 247 yards and a 19.0 average to lead the Tar Heels in that area... Was red-shirted as a freshman in 1983... Named Northern Virginia's Player of the Year by the D.C. Touchdown Club as a senior at South Lakes High School... Won two letters as a defensive back and wide receiver... All-metro, all-region, all-district and all-state as a senior... Caught 24 passes for 580 yards and four touchdowns... Also scored two touchdowns on punt returns, two on kickoff returns and one on a run from scrimmage... Also intercepted three passes... Touched the football a total of 56 times and accounted for 1,100 yards... Lettered three times in track... Was the star of the 1983 East-West All-Star Game in Virginia... Caught four passes for 94 yards, including touchdown receptions of 68 and six yards... Also kicked three extra points to pace a 21-12 West victory... Majoring in geography... Born April 3, 1965.

Reuben Davis
Defensive Tackle
6-3, 280, Junior
Greensboro, N.C.

Won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors as just a sophomore last fall... Capable of contending for national all-star honors... Has started every game in the last two years... Voted the team's most outstanding defensive lineman last season... Carolina's fourth-leading tackler last year after ranking third in total hits as a freshman... Got in on 99 tackles last fall, including 44 solos and 20 assists... Got better and smarter as the season went along... His on-the-field awareness improved as he continued to gain experience... Most consistent of the Tar Heel linemen a year ago... May have played his best game in a 21-20 victory over Clemson... Named ACC Player of the Week for his performance that day... Had seven solo tackles, four assists, one tackle for a loss and three forced hurries... Made the big defensive plays late in the game in the shadow of his own goal... Stopped Kenny Flowers for a one-yard gain and Stacey Driver for no gain at the Carolina 14 in the closing minutes... Clemson had to settle for a field goal after those second and third-down plays and a 20-14 lead... The Tar Heels then drove for the winning touchdown... Actually goes into the new season listed second on the depth chart at tackle... Missed all of spring practice with a neck injury and will be behind Kubi Kalombo when fall practice begins... However, will be 100 percent physically and ready to battle back for his job... Although unable to take part in the contact drills, he went to practice each day in the spring... Ran every day and went to all the meetings... Worked hard on his own over the summer to prepare for the new season... An extremely good athlete... Big, strong and quick... Runs very well... Has great agility... Quick hands and speed make him tough to block... Plays the run very well... Has developed into a good pass rusher... Only had one sack last year, but opposition generally stayed away from his side of the field... Still was credited with 14 quarterback pressures... Steady and reliable... A goal this fall for the coaching staff will be to get him in a position to make more big plays... Capable of being a dominating defensive player... Is going to continue to improve... Being counted on for leadership... Came to Carolina in 1983 and was red-shirted... Then was in on 131 total hits in 1984... Played a sensational game against Virginia that year... Was in on 21 tackles, including eight solo hits and seven assists... Had been a two-way tackle and fullback at Grimsley High School... Was in on over 100 tackles as a senior with 15 quarterback sacks... One of North Carolina's captains in the 1982 Shrine Bowl... Made 11 tackles in that game... Also chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... All-conference, all-metro and GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Also lettered in track, winning the state discus title as a junior... Majoring in RTVMP... Born May 7, 1965.

Junnie Demery
Wide Receiver
6-1, 200, Sophomore
Richmond, Va.

One of the reserves at flanker... Could provide needed depth at wide receiver... Saw only limited action last season... Then missed most of spring practice with a deep thigh bruise... A fundamentally sound receiver... Has outstanding mechanics... Possesses a great pair of hands... Has excellent concentration... Always knows where he is on the field... Has improved his quickness and elusiveness... Most physical of the wide receivers... Good blocker... Red-shirted in 1984 after playing wingback and cornerback at Varina High School... All-district on both offense and defense as a senior... Caught 14 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns... Also averaged 11.5 yards a rush and had five punt returns for 59 yards... Named to ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Started at tight end as a sophomore and then at flanker and cornerback as a junior... Earned four letters in both football and track... Two-time district champion in the 400 meters... Set school records in the 200 and 400 meters and as part of two relay teams... A criminal justice major... Born September 14, 1966.

61

Leonard Dempsey
Linebacker
6-1, 224, Freshman
Lynchburg, Va.

In the running for playing time at linebacker... Listed behind Mitch Wike at one linebacker spot at the conclusion of spring practice... Will see plenty of action this fall... One of only three Tar Heel linebackers who have ever been in a college game... Was a reserve at this position last fall, but was shifted to defensive end during the season... Help was needed there and coaches felt he had the tools to play that spot... But, with the inexperience at linebacker last spring, he was moved back there... Has a knack for getting to the football... Had a 36-yard interception return for a touchdown in the spring game... Possesses fine strength... Needs to work on his speed... Was a good special teams player last fall and will be used there again this season... Red-shirted as a freshman in 1984... An all-area selection at both tight end and linebacker in his senior year at Heritage High School... Only player to be named on both offense and defense... Averaged 22.1 yards on 20 catches that year, scoring seven times... Also played some at fullback... Chosen for the Shrine Game and the East-West All-Star Game... Team captain and MVP as a senior... Won three football letters and four in basketball... Was also Heritage's basketball MVP in his final year there... An industrial relations major... Born October 11, 1964.

37

Derrick Donald
Cornerback
5-11, 191, Junior
Lenior, N.C.

A returning starter at left cornerback... Should be one of the better defensive backs in the Atlantic Coast Conference this fall... Was having a fine season last year until injuring an ankle against Florida State... That sidelined him the rest of the fall... First moved into prominence in 1984... Started down the stretch that year after Walter Bailey suffered a knee injury at Memphis State... Intercepted passes that season against N.C. State and Duke... The interception against the Wolfpack came with just 31 seconds in the game and Carolina holding a 28-21 lead... Played an outstanding game against Virginia, making seven solo tackles and knocking down three passes... Has been a fine special teams player each of the past two years and will see action there again this fall... Being counted on to add maturity and provide leadership to the secondary... Did that in the off-season and the spring... Has great work habits... Very dedicated and committed to the game... Quick and tough... Has very good speed... Always gives a complete effort... Sets a good example for the younger players... Has a great attitude... Wants to be a good player and is willing to work to do so... Worked at tailback during a 1983 red-shirt season... Was moved to the secondary in the spring of 1984... Conference player of the year and county player of the year at West Caldwell High School in 1982... All-Piedmont Selection... Played fullback, tailback, defensive back and linebacker and also did the place-kicking... Ran for 1,056 yards as a senior as his team won its second straight conference championship... Scored 12 touchdowns, made 10 of 14 PATs and kicked three of five field goals... Intercepted 10 passes in his last two seasons there... Also won two letters in basketball and three in track... Played on two conference basketball championship teams... Majoring in criminal justice... Born October 19, 1964.

Howard Feggins
Ram
5-9, 200, Junior
South Hill, Va.

Started at the ram position, one of Carolina's two strong safety slots, last season... Split time there with Antonio Goss and will do the same again this fall... The Tar Heels' sixth-leading tackler last year... Was in on 83 total hits, including 46 solos and 19 assists... Intercepted a pass at the LSU 18-yard line to set up a touchdown against the Tigers... Had a great day at N.C. State with seven solo tackles... Was in on three other hits that day, forced a fumble, made one tackle for a loss and had one sack... Good all-around athlete who had a fine spring... Won the Chris Hanburger Award as the best tackler in the spring drills... Tough and hard-nosed... Has excellent speed... Conscientious and has a great attitude... A diligent worker in the weight room... Won a campus-wide bodybuilding contest sponsored by the intramural department last spring... Has been an excellent special teams player for the past two seasons and will be used there again... Made one of the most alert plays of the 1984 season when he grabbed a Tar Heel punt which had brushed a Duke receiver at the Blue Devil two-yard line... That set up a third-quarter touchdown and a 17-15 Carolina victory... Also saw spot action in the secondary that year... Had been red-shirted in 1983... A tailback and cornerback at Park View High School... Averaged eight yards a carry as a senior and scored 20 touchdowns... Two-way all-district selection as both a junior and senior... All-region defensive back as a senior... Selected to Who's Who in High School Football... Won three football letters and four in track... Set his school's shot put record and ran the sprints... A physical education major... Born May 6, 1965.

Derrick Fenner
Tailback
6-4, 220, Sophomore
Oxon Hill, Md.

Expected to be in the fight for playing time at tailback... Has tremendous ability... In fact, has all the tools to be a standout running back— size, speed, good feet and fine hands... However, must improve his work habits and become a more consistent player... Needs to be more disciplined... Broke onto the college scene in impressive fashion last year... Coaches had been planning to red-shirt him... However, injuries to the other Carolina tailbacks forced him into action... Started the first game in which he played... Told on a Friday night he would start, he rushed for 109 yards on 21 carries the following day against Wake Forest... That's the most yardage ever gained by a Tar Heel player in the first game of a career... Charlie Justice had held the old record of 102 against Virginia Tech in 1946... Only other true freshmen to start at tailback for Carolina since frosh became eligible in 1972 have been Amos Lawrence and Ethan Horton... Ran for 150 yards in his second start at N.C. State... Named Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Week for that performance... That was the sixth-highest total by any ACC player all year... Rushed for 78 yards against a tough Florida State defense the following week... Also caught six passes in that game, most ever by a Carolina freshman... Finished the year as the team's third-leading rusher... Ran for 393 yards, averaging 4.3 yards per attempt... Also caught a freshman record 14 passes... Has the build and style of Horton, the two-time ACC rushing champion... Wears Horton's old number 12... Came to Chapel Hill from Oxon Hill High School... Rushed for 1,500 yards on just 139 carries as a senior and scored 20 touchdowns... All-county and all-league selection... Second-team all-metro... Played on a state championship team as a sophomore and a county championship team each of his final two years there... Won three letters in both football and basketball... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born April 6, 1967.

6-0, 172, Freshman
Columbus, Ohio

One of the reserves at flanker... A walk-on who has made good efforts to improve himself... Lettered in football, basketball and track at Northland High School... All-city football player and all-state in track... As a junior won city title in 110 high hurdles... Received a congressional appointment to the U.S. Military Academy, but turned it down to attend Carolina... His brother Tim was a two-year starter at tight end for N.C. State... Majoring in psychology... Born February 11, 1967.

Bill Franklin
Free Safety
6-2, 190, Freshman
Lincoln Heights, Ohio

A red-shirt freshman who played well in spring practice... Worked on the scout team last year and did a fine job in that role... Has the ability to develop into a fine player... Will battle Danny Burmeister and Dan Vooletich for playing time at free safety... Tough and very physical... His brother, Arnold, was a four-regular at tight end for Carolina and was drafted by the Miami Dolphins last spring... Played on Princeton High School teams which compiled a 19-4 record in his two varsity seasons... In his junior year, Princeton was 11-2, winning the state championship and finishing the season ranked second nationally by USA TODAY... Intercepted eight passes as a starter in the secondary... All-city choice... Started at free safety in the Southwest Ohio All-Star Game... Also lettered once in basketball and three times in track... Won all-state honors as a senior, finishing second in the state in the long jump... A pre-business student... Born February 3, 1967.

84
Joel Freeze
Defensive End
6-2, 220, Junior
Rockville, Md.

A pleasant surprise in spring practice... Moved to end from strong safety in the off-season and got off to a great start at the new position... In fact, heads into the fall fighting for a starting position... Has big-play capabilities... Could be a leader on defense... A very intense, emotional player whose progress has been slowed by injuries... Tough, smart and aggressive... A good, hard worker... Originally came to Carolina in 1983 and was red-shirted... Then injured a shoulder the following spring and missed the entire 1984 season... Was in the fight for a starting outside linebacker post at the time he got hurt... Moved to strong safety in the spring of 1985 although his shoulder prevented him from taking part in contact work... Saw spot action last fall before injuring himself in the Clemson game... However, bounced back from that to have his big spring... Appears to have found a home at end and is locked in a three-way duel with veterans Noel McEachern and Ron Burton for the starting spot... Was an outside linebacker and tight end at Richard Montgomery High School... Two-time all-county selection at both positions... All-metro on offense as a senior... Caught 35 passes for 544 yards and five touchdowns... Played on a class A state championship team as a junior... Starred in the state semi-finals that year with the winning TD catch in a 13-10 victory and two interceptions... Lettered three times in football and track... Competed in the discus, shot and 880... Majoring in recreation... Born January 11, 1965.

Jeff Garnica
Center
6-4, 250, Sophomore
Kettering, Ohio

Here's Carolina's starting center and one of the best young players in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Could challenge for all-star honors this fall... Played in a reserve role early last season... Then saw extensive action at Maryland and moved into the starting lineup against Clemson... Broke his right hand early in spring practice... But, learned to snap lefthanded over spring break and returned to the practice field... Didn't want to give anyone else a chance to win his job... Won the Ron Wooten Award as the most physical offensive lineman in the spring work... A very good athlete... Only thing he lacks is body mass, but he's still getting bigger... Goes into the new season with the experience he lacked last fall... Played tight end during a red-shirt freshman season in 1984 and was moved to center the following spring... Learned the new position quickly and became the number two player at that spot... Has good feet and good punch as a blocker... Great second and third-effort player... Good pass protector... Has great inner drive... A hard worker in the weight room... Smart and competitive... Tight end, linebacker and punter at Fairmont High School... Caught 32 passes as a senior, including eight for touchdowns... Also had 13 quarterback sacks and averaged 35.5 yards a punt... Named to the All-Southern Ohio All-Star Team... All-area selection... Won three letters in both football and basketball... All-area choice in basketball... Undecided on a college major... Born April 28, 1966.

Lee Gliarmis
Kicking Specialist
5-10, 170, Senior
Wilson, N.C.

In the running for the field goal and extra point job... Handled the PATs and shorter field goals last season... Converted 25 of 28 extra point attempts and hit on four of eight field goal efforts... Three of those field goals came in one game against VMI—from 27, 29 and 38 yards... Also kicked a 38-yarder at Virginia... The 38-yard kicks represent his career longest... His 37 points made him Carolina's second-leading scorer and was the 10th-highest total in the ACC... A conventional-style kicker... Saw only spot action in 1984 after a hot start by another kicker, Kenny Miller... Made four of five PATs and missed his only field goal effort... Played behind record-setting Brooks Barwick in 1983... Kicked a 37-yard field goal against William and Mary in his only appearance that fall... Had been red-shirted the previous year... One of the team's hardest and most conscientious workers... Has great self-discipline... A student of the game... A believer in fundamentals and techniques and constantly works on them... Has gotten stronger and increased his range through work in the weight room... Gets the ball up in a hurry... A positive influence on the other kickers because of his work habits and techniques... Has definitely been a help to younger players in that respect... One of the team's most popular players... Parade All-America kicker at Fike High School... Kicked 27 career field goals there, including eight which covered 40 yards or more... Career best was 49 yards... Once kicked four field goals in a game... Made seven of 12 field goal attempts as a senior and 19 of 22 PATs... Twice an all-conference and All-East choice and three times an all-area selection... Named to the Associated Press all-state team twice... Kicked two field goals in the 1981 Shrine Bowl... Lettered three times in football and tennis... His father, Lee, played basketball at Carolina in the mid-Forties... Has a brother, Socrates, who was a kicker at East Carolina in the late 1970's... Majoring in RTVMP... Born November 28, 1963.

Tim Goad
Nose Man
6-4, 275, Junior
Claudville, Va.

Could be one of the best linemen in college football... Certainly rates as a top All-Atlantic Coast Conference candidate... Led the Tar Heels with 5½ sacks last season... Also had a team-high 24 quarterback pressures... Excellent pass rusher... Capable of being a dominating player... Should team with Reuben Davis to give Carolina a great tackle/nose man tandem along the defensive front... Was fifth in total hits last fall... Missed only one start and had a fine season... Played exceptional games at Navy and at N.C. State... Was in on 13 hits against the Midshipmen, including four solo tackles and one sack, and also forced four hurries by Navy passers... Had a sack and four hurries at State... Was in on just 39 snaps against VMI, but got in on eight hits, had a sack and forced five hurried throws... Got a lot of playing time during the latter part of his freshman year in 1984... Started the last two games of that season... Played a fine game against Virginia in his first start with 15 total hits, including six solo tackles... Named ACC Rookie of the Week for that performance... Did a very good job last spring... Dominated the line of scrimmage... One of the team's hardest workers... Pushes himself in practice... Also understands he has to work in the off-season and has been diligent in that... Has picked up a great deal of experience, but still isn't afraid to ask questions... Wants to be a great player... Conscientious kid... A dedicated weight-lifter who is one of the team's strongest players... Has good quickness for a big man... A leader on the field... Associated Press all-state pick as a linebacker at Patrick County High in 1983... Also played offensive guard... Named Timesland Defensive Player of the year by the ROANOKE TIMES... Won those honors although his team was 0-10 in his senior year and 3-37 during his career... Made 193 tackles as a senior, intercepted three passes and blocked 11 extra points and three field goals... Three times an all-district choice—as a kicker in 1981, as an offensive guard and nose guard in 1982 and then at offensive guard and linebacker in 1983... Twice was named the district's top defensive player... Two-time all-region selection... Won four letters each in football, wrestling and track... Three-time district heavyweight wrestling champion... State AA shot put champ as a senior... Was third in the shot at the National Junior Olympics... Has finished fifth in that event at the ACC Championships each of the last two years... Accomplished that although he did not get to spend much time practicing because of spring football... He's the nephew of Don Klochak, a star Carolina running back of the late Fifties... Majoring in criminal justice... Born February 6, 1966.

Allan Gorry
Center
6-0, 253, Junior
Hickory, N.C.

Provides depth in the offensive interior... Capable of playing either guard or center... Has a fine understanding of the Tar Heel offensive system... Walk-on who played a lot as a backup at guard last fall... Started the Georgia Tech game because of an injury to C.A. Brooks... Great worker in the weight room... Has fine strength... Gets good leverage on his blocks... Has improved his pass protection... Worked hard in the spring to land the deep snapping job... Still battling Tony Cooper for those duties... Shifted to center and provides backup help to Jeff Garnica there... A very coachable young man... Attended The Hill School in Pottstown, Pa... Lettered twice in football, basketball and wrestling... All-conference choice in football... His brother, Tommy, is a former Carolina wrestler... Majoring in industrial relations... Born March 6, 1966.

Antonio Goss
Ram
6-4, 217, Sophomore
Randleman, N.C.

Got extensive playing time at the ram spot last fall after being red-shirted in 1984... Split time at this position with Howard Feggins... Had a good season... Finished 10th on the team in total hits with 64... Had 36 solo tackles and 13 assists... Made two big plays in a goal line stand against Wake Forest... On first down, he stopped Michael Ramseur for a one-yard gain at the one... Then went over a pile of players to meet Ramseur short of the goal on second down... Deacons did not score on that possession... Was in on eight hits in that game, including five solo tackles, and also broke up a pass with a jarring tackle... Had six solo tackles and was in on five other hits at Virginia... Had an excellent spring... Although he and Feggins should again share the ram spot, Goss may get the honor of starting... His off-season work was that outstanding... Good athlete who is a bruising hitter... For the second straight year won the Willie Harris Award as the most physical defensive back in the spring... Big and strong... Has good speed and acceleration... Instincts are getting better... Excellent on the blitz... Capable of being a big-play performer... Needs to be a little more consistent... That should come with more experience... Quite coachable... His height helps him at this position... A lot is expected from him this fall... Did a good job on special teams last season and will be used there again this year... Worked at tailback during his red-shirt freshman season and was moved to defense before the following spring... Won four football letters at Randleman High School, starting three years at tailback and free safety... As a senior in 1983 was named to the All-America teams picked by Parade and the National High School Coaches Association... Randleman was 39-2 with Goss in the lineup, winning its last 26 games in a row... Played on teams which won three straight state championships with records of 13-1, 13-1 and 13-0... Ran for 2,045 yards as a senior and scored 41 touchdowns... Capped his career in the state championship game against East Carteret by carrying 29 times for 213 yards and scoring all five TDs in a 35-0 victory... Named High School Player of the Year by the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD... Named to that paper's all-state team as a junior and senior... Also selected to the Associated Press all-state team as a senior and the RALEIGH TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Ran for 1,952 yards as a junior and scored 29 touchdowns... Finished his high school career with over 5,000 yards rushing and 82 touchdowns... All-South choice... Lettered three times in basketball and twice each in baseball and track... Undecided on a college major... Born August 11, 1966.

Kurt Green
Wide Receiver
5-11, 175, Freshman
Durham, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who had a fine spring... Worked in the secondary on the scout team last fall, but was moved to offense prior to spring practice... Showed flashes of good ability... Could provide depth at split end... Has good football savvy... Goes after the ball aggressively everywhere on the field... Lettered twice in football at Pinecrest High School in Southern Pines... Played wide receiver and defensive back and also handled punting and place-kicking duties... Also lettered four times each in basketball and baseball... All-conference in both football and baseball... Member of the National Honor Society... His father is a high school football coach... After graduation from high school, he spent 18 months in Italy on a Mormon mission... A business major... Born July 12, 1964.

David Gubin
Punter
5-9, 175, Sophomore
Caruthersville, Mo.

A hard-working walk-on who hopes to contend for the punter's job... Has good leg strength... Needs to improve his techniques... Also must do a better job of handling the ball... Lettered three times in football at Caruthersville High School as a punter, place-kicker and wide receiver... All-conference, all-district and all-state punter... Also won four tennis letters... Was tennis team captain for three years... His brother, Steve, was a member of the Carolina tennis team in 1982... His grandfather, Benard Levy, played quarterback at Georgia Tech in the early 1920's... Economics major... Born July 16, 1966.

Jonathan Hall
Quarterback
6-2, 200, Sophomore
Vienna, Va.

Carolina's starting quarterback down the stretch last season... Saw only spot action in three of the Tar Heels' first seven games... Then played the entire second half of a loss at Maryland... Started the final three games... Completed 38 of 79 passes for 559 yards and four touchdowns... Scored once himself on a four-yard run against Duke... Turned in a sensational performance against Clemson in his first collegiate start, completing 12 of 20 passes for 182 yards and one touchdown... Directed scoring drives of 80 and 70 yards in the fourth quarter as Carolina came from behind to win, 21-20... Completed seven of eight passes on those two late drives... Made an outstanding play in the first drive when he eluded a heavy Clemson pass rush on third-and-nine and fired a 17-yard first down pass to Quint Smith... That march culminated in a three-yard Hall-to-Arnold Franklin TD pass... Hall then took the Tar Heels 70 yards with the winning touchdown coming with just 10 seconds to play... Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Week for that performance... Became the first true freshman to start a game at quarterback since Chuck Sharpe in 1978... Was only four of 14 in the air the following week at Virginia... But, completed 14 of 26 for 242 yards and two touchdowns in the season finale against Duke... The 242 yards was the most ever gained by a Tar Heel freshman and the 13th-highest total by any Carolina passer... Did a good job in spring practice and heads into the new season set as the starter... Made good progress in the spring as a dropback passer... Improving in that area had been one of his major goals... Completed 11 of 13 passes for 130 yards in the Blue-White Game... A hard worker who is devoted to the game... Has great speed for a quarterback... In fact, has the speed to play a number of other skilled positions... Has great acceleration and is a good escape artist... Can avoid a blitz by himself and make something happen... Intelligent and a good passer... Loses his concentration at times... Lack of experience is a factor in that... A streaky passer who is brilliant when he's hot... Must become more consistent and avoid cold streaks... Has a great talent for putting things back together after they go bad... Very confident in his ability and wants the ball when the game is on the line... Is able to instill that confidence in others... Quarterbacked James Madison High to an 8-2 record in 1984... Completed 77 of 152 passes for 1,255 yards and 17 touchdowns... Gained 609 yards rushing on 82 carries, averaging 7.4 yards an attempt... Scored six TDs himself... All-region and all-district... Picked to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... Chosen for the East-West All-Star Game... Won two letters in football and two in basketball... His brother, David, is a former running back at Virginia... Another brother, Joey, is a walk-on linebacker at Western Kentucky... A pre-business student... Born March 28, 1967.

Darrell Hamilton
Offensive Tackle
6-7, 282, Sophomore
Washington, D.C.

Outstanding young lineman whose status for the fall is unclear because of an injury... Tore knee ligaments against VMI last year and missed the final eight games of the season... Underwent surgery and rehabilitation kept him out of spring practice... His contribution this fall will depend on how he has recovered... Will be behind the other players at tackle because he has missed so much practice time... However, if he's healthy, he should play... Showed great potential last year... Was sensational in pre-season workouts to win the starting job at right tackle... Played three very solid games before being injured... Was really beginning to blossom at the time he got hurt... An exceptional athlete... Not only has excellent size, but also runs well for a big man... Despite his lack of experience, has already developed into a top-flight pass blocker... Came to Carolina in 1984 and was red-shirted... Had played both offensive and defensive tackle at Anacostia High School... Was a member of two East Interhigh championship teams and one city championship team... All-Interhigh and all-metro selection... Three-year letterman in football and basketball... Undecided on a college major... Born May 11, 1965.

Tripp Hardy
Fullback
6-0, 207, Junior
Roswell, Ga.

Came to Carolina without a scholarship, but has won one with his hard work and good play... Figures to be a prominent part of the offensive backfield this fall... Has given the Tar Heels steady play as a backup tight end in his first two years here... Was shifted to fullback prior to last spring's off-season practice... Turned in an outstanding performance in the spring drills... Won the Ken Willard Award as the best blocker among the backs... Listed behind Brad Lopp and James Thompson at fullback, but will get playing time... Also will see action on special teams... Has the perfect size for a fullback... Disciplined and a hard worker... An intelligent player... Has great hands... Aggressive as a runner and blocker... Red-shirted as a freshman in 1983... Played linebacker and tight end at Milton High School... An all-county and all-region performer... Majoring in economics... Born April 9, 1965.

Roney Harris
Quarterback
6-1, 180, Sophomore
Rocky Mount, N.C.

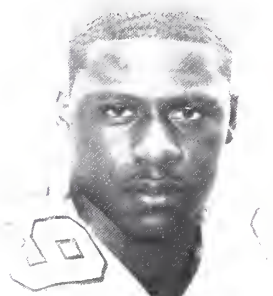

A walk-on quarterback... Worked with the scout team last fall... Has some tools to play... A hard worker... Needs a lot of repetitions on the practice field... Completed four of 11 passes for 31 yards in the spring game... Lettered three times in football, twice in baseball and once in tennis at Rocky Mount High School... Honorable mention all-state quarterback... Team captain as a senior... Played the number one singles spot in tennis... His father played football at Elon College... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born February 3, 1967.

Sterling Hayden
Cornerback
6-2, 182, Sophomore
Youngstown, Ohio

One of four true freshmen to play at Carolina last fall... Saw considerable action on special teams... Did an outstanding job there... Has good instincts and a great awareness on the field... Went into spring practice in a battle for a starting secondary job... Injured early in the off-season drills, however, and had a tough time performing because of that... Still managed to show promise at cornerback... Great athlete... Has all the tools to play... Could make a run for a starting position... Will have a better opportunity to do so this fall when he's completely healthy... Listed behind Derrick Donald at left corner, but could also play other positions... Should again be a special teams possibility... Played tailback, flanker and cornerback at Ursuline High School... Lettered twice in football and played on a conference championship team each year... Intercepted seven passes as a junior, returning three for touchdowns... Had five interceptions as a senior... Rushed for 1,049 yards that year and scored 14 TDs... Also returned punts... UPI all-state selection... Two-time all-conference pick... Chosen for the Ohio High School All-Star Game... Co-captain as a senior... Also won two letters in basketball and three in track... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born October 17, 1966.

Damon Hueston
Tight End
6-6, 230, Sophomore
Toledo, Ohio

Goes into the fall as the number one tight end... A great athlete who has all the tools to be a standout player... Started to blossom during spring practice... With Dave Truitt sidelined most of the spring with an injury, Hueston worked with the number one offense... Won the starting job although he figures to get a battle from Truitt for that spot in the pre-season... Has the ability to keep his starting berth... Is going to play a great deal... Saw action as the third tight end behind Arnold Franklin and Truitt last year... Played on most of the special teams and did a good job... Had been red-shirted in 1984... Seemed to gain the confidence last spring which he has lacked in the past... Has good work habits... Fine pass receiver who can make the big catch... However, needs to be more consistent in that area... Fastest of the tight ends... Smart and has the ability to make adjustments on the run... Has worked to become a better one-on-one blocker... Won the Charles Waddell Award in the spring for being the team's most physical receiver... Was City League Player of the Year at Macomber-Whitney Tech in 1983... Also division and district player of the year... Tight end, defensive tackle and punter... All-division, all-district, all-city and all-state... Selected to play in Ohio's North-South All-Star Game... Played on two City League championship teams and three teams which won division titles... Caught 30 passes as a senior for 505 yards and three touchdowns, averaging 16.8 yards a catch... Punted for a 35.5 average... Earned four letters in football and track and three in basketball... His brother, Dennis, is a former Ohio State linebacker... An economics major... Born January 20, 1966.

William Humes
Tailback
6-0, 198, Senior
Asheville, N.C.

Set to begin his second year as the starting Tar Heel tailback... Capable of being an outstanding player, but must stay free of the injuries which have plagued him in each of his first three seasons... Carolina's leading rusher last fall with 515 yards and third-leading receiver with 21 catches... Although his rushing total was just 194 yards, he played well in the first three games... Sprained a knee while running in the open field in practice before the fourth game and missed four weeks... Came back to play a key role in a dramatic 21-20 victory over Clemson... Rushed for a season-high 134 yards that day on 25 carries... Scored on a 36-yard run and a one-yard dive... That second touchdown was the winning score and came with only 10 seconds left in the game... Was also over 100 yards rushing against VMI (104) and Virginia (109)... Had seven catches in the opener against Navy after making only two in his first two entire seasons... Played as a backup in 1983 and 1984... Ran for 302 yards as a sophomore... Best performance came in one of two starting roles... Carried 27 times for 156 yards against N.C. State and scored three touchdowns... Also caught a two-point conversion pass in a 28-21 victory... With the Tar Heels trailing 21-20 in the last six minutes, Humes keyed a 74-yard touchdown drive... Carried the ball eight times in the 13-play march, gaining 42 yards... Scored the winning TD with only 31 seconds left in the game on a two-yard dive... Named Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Week for that performance... His 20 points that day were the most ever scored by a Carolina sophomore in one game... However, suffered a sprained ankle the following week at Memphis State and missed three straight games... As a freshman, was the Tar Heels' fourth-leading rusher with 254 yards... Saw action in the first six games, but suffered a knee injury against Wake Forest and missed the rest of the season... Top performance that year was a 161-yard effort against Miami on 26 carries... Had a 42-yard run in that game, the longest of his career... Heads into his senior season 19th on the school's all-time rushing list with 1,071 yards.

Possesses the tools to be another in a long line of great Carolina tailbacks... Has good speed and great instincts... A smooth and deceptive runner... Reads blocks well... Has excellent hands and is a fine receiver... Two-time high school All-America... Named to the Centenary team as a junior and the team picked by the National High School Coaches Association as a senior... Tailback, linebacker and defensive back at Clyde A. Erwin High School... All-conference and all-county as a junior and senior and all-state in his final year... Voted Western North Carolina Back of the Year in 1982... Played in the Shrine Bowl and East-West All-Star Game... Rushed for 1,682 yards and scored 32 touchdowns as a junior... Gained 1,532 yards and scored 33 times in his senior season... Had three-year totals of 4,124 yards rushing, 75 touchdowns and 19 interceptions... Won three letters in football, four in baseball and two each in track and basketball... Two-time all-conference baseball player... Played baseball at the 1983 National Sports Festival... His father, William, competed in football, baseball and track at Miles College in Alabama and then played in the Chicago Cubs' system for a while... Majoring in RTVMP... Born March 8, 1865.

Chris Jackson
Linebacker
5-10, 208, Senior
Whiteville, N.C.

Hard-working reserve at linebacker... A non-scholarship player who is always trying to improve... Has good techniques... Will do anything he can to help the team... Has played almost every position on the scout team... Played at Whiteville High School... Has a great interest in music... Plays the guitar and has written and recorded a couple of songs... A physical education major... Born October 15, 1965.

Chris Jacobs
Nose Man
6-5, 240, Sophomore
Mocksville, N.C.

Played as a backup at both defensive guard and nose man last year... Showed the potential to be solid player... However, did not take part in spring practice... Broke a bone in his foot just before the off-season drills began... Missing that practice time will put him behind the other defensive linemen this fall... But, will be tough to keep out of the lineup... Could press for a starting spot... Listed behind Tim Goad at the nose position, but has the capabilities to play anywhere in the line... Worked hard over the winter and increased his strength... Has also become quicker... The experience he gained in 1985 has helped his football instincts... Tough and competitive... Red-shirted in 1984... Defensive tackle and place-kicker at Davie County High School... Kicked three field goals and 18 PATs as a senior... Had seven quarterback sacks... Started in the Shrine Bowl... Also selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game... All-Northwest North Carolina and all-conference... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... Won two letters in football and basketball and three in track... Team MVP in all three sports as a senior... Conference shot put champion... 1983 national finalist in the shot at the Junior Olympics... An industrial relations major... Born February 24, 1966.

In the hunt for playing time at right cornerback... Ended the spring as the number two man at that position... Was a backup at that spot last fall... Got a considerable amount of playing time on special teams... Did an outstanding job there... Also got an opportunity to play some in the secondary... Made a couple of outstanding plays in a goal line stand against Wake Forest... A tough, physical player... Reckless and competitive on the playing field... Dedicated to the game and a hard worker... Plays with a lot of savvy... His father, Ray, was a head coach in the Canadian Football League and with the old Washington Federals of the USFL... Jim originally came to Carolina in 1984 and was red-shirted... Won three football letters at St. Paul's High School in Winnipeg, Manitoba and then played his senior year at Oakton High in Virginia... All-district and all-region choice in his final season... Chosen for the Virginia East-West All-Star Game... Won all-city honors three times in Winnipeg and played on a city championship team in 1982... Also lettered three times in track... Has a brother, Jeff, who was a running back at the University of North Dakota... Another brother, John, played that same position at South Dakota... Undecided on a college major... Born June 25, 1965.

J.R. Jenkins
Offensive Tackle
6-4, 283, Sophomore
Rocky Mount, N.C.

Number two left tackle behind Harris Barton... Red-shirted in 1984... Did not letter last year... Has good athletic ability... Became a better player in the spring... Had a goal of improving his pass protection and did that... A hard worker who always gives a good effort... A very intense and aggressive player... Offensive and defensive tackle at Southwest Edgecombe High School... GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS and Associated Press all-state choice... As a senior, played on a team which reached the semi-finals of the state playoffs... Won four letters in football, two in track and one basketball... RTVMP major... Born October 30, 1964.

Kubi Kalombo
Defensive Tackle
6-5, 232, Sophomore
Herndon, Va.

A starter at tackle throughout spring practice... Moved into that role because Reuben Davis was sidelined with a neck injury... Took advantage of that opportunity and had a great spring... Will go into the fall as the starter... Has the talent to keep the job... Red-shirted in 1984, he saw only spot action last fall... Thus, he needed the practice time and repetitions he got in the spring... Made great strides in learning the position... Only had one year of football experience when he came to Carolina... Has been living in the United States just five years... A native of Zaire... His father is a diplomat in Washington... Has excellent athletic ability... Possesses tremendous quickness and great agility... Has big-play potential... Makes things happen... Despite his inexperience, he has a knack for getting to the football... Can develop into a good pass rusher... Has the speed to chase people down... A very intelligent player who has improved his strength... Will play a great deal in his career here... A nose guard at Herndon High School... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top 25 in Virginia... A psychology major... Born December 9, 1965.

John Keller
Tight End
6-5, 230, Sophomore
Toledo, Ohio

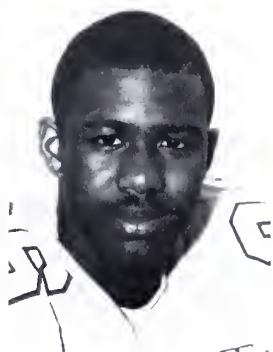

Has settled in nicely at tight end... Worked at quarterback in 1984 while being red-shirted... Moved to strong safety in the spring of 1985 and played there last fall... Also did a good job on special teams... Shifted to tight end early last spring... Coaches felt he could provide the depth needed at this position... An intelligent player who doesn't make mental mistakes... Picked up the new position quickly... A reliable possession receiver... Has good hands... Strong and catches the ball well in a crowd... A very aggressive player who goes all out all the time... Listed behind Damon Hueston and Dave Truitt on the spring depth chart, but will get playing time this fall... Won all-city honors at three positions in his senior year at Central Catholic High School— quarterback, free safety and placekicker... Named Most Valuable Back in Northwest Ohio... All-league, all-division and all-state... Chosen for the Ohio North-South All-Star Game... Academic All-America... CYO Athlete of the Year... Had 23 career interceptions... His team won the 1982 city championship... Won three letters in football, two in basketball and two in baseball... His father, John, was a pitcher in the Cincinnati Reds' system at one time... An uncle, Richard Keller, was a halfback at Notre Dame in the early 1950's... Majoring in speech... Born October 5, 1965.

Keith Lawrence
Free Safety
6-2, 202, Junior
Statesville, N.C.

Reserve at free safety... Originally came to Carolina in 1983 and was red-shirted... Was then out of school in 1984... Returned last fall and rejoined the team... Had to battle to get back into top playing form... Worked extremely hard and by mid-season was doing a fine job on special teams... Ended the season as the number two free safety... Went into the spring with a great attitude and a lot of determination... Did a good job in the off-season drills, but found the competition stiff... Ended the spring behind Danny Burmeister and Dan Voole-tich... Will be back in the thick of the fight for playing time in the fall... Big, strong, talented athlete... Has excellent range and the capabilities to be an excellent free safety... Defensive back and quarterback at Statesville High School... Led his team to two straight conference championships and two trips to the state playoffs... Once completed six passes against Hickory High School for 205 yards and four touchdowns... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Won two football letters, one in basketball and three in track... A recreation major... Born July 1, 1964.

Eric Lewis
Wide Receiver
5-9, 176, Junior
New Bern, N.C.

Has won the starting job at flanker... Saw a lot of action in his first two seasons as a role player on offense and a kickoff return man on special teams... Was the third wide receiver in Carolina's three wide-out passing attack... Also played a flex tight end... Now an established, experienced football player... Did a good job in last spring's practice sessions... Had four catches in the Blue-White Game, including one for a 28-yard touchdown... Began to develop into a more consistent player... Has good ability... Elusive and quick... Extremely aggressive going after the football and has become more aggressive as a blocker... A smart football player and a quick learner... Ranked fifth on the team last year in receptions... Made 17 catches for 222 yards (13.1 yards a catch)... Longest reception of his season and career was a 30-yard grab against VMI... Had a season-high five catches for 44 yards against Florida State... Ranked fifth in the Atlantic Coast Conference in kickoff returns, averaging 21.8 yards on 16 attempts... Had a 32-yard return against Duke, the longest of his career... Caught 11 passes as a freshman in 1984... All of those came in the last four games of the season... Had five catches against Georgia Tech alone, including one for a five-yard touchdown... At the time, his 11 receptions were the most ever by a Tar Heel freshman in one season... That record was broken last year by Derrick Fenner... In addition to his duties at wide receiver, Lewis is again a top candidate to return kicks... Red-shirted as a freshman in 1983, Lewis came to Chapel Hill from New Bern High School... Lettered there in football, basketball, baseball and track... Played running back and defensive back and also saw some action at quarterback in a wishbone offense... Gained 2,510 yards in his last two seasons and scored 32 touchdowns... All-East in both football and basketball... An industrial relations major... Born December 2, 1964.

Brad Lopp
Fullback
6-1, 208, Junior
Jefferson, N.C.

Looms as a key figure in the Tar Heel backfield... Goes into the fall as the starting fullback, a position he held last year, and the backup tailback... Worked at tailback for the last two weeks of spring practice... With James Thompson and Tripp Hardy playing well at fullback, coaches felt they could afford to experiment with Lopp... They were looking for insurance at tailback because of the injury problems which have plagued William Humes, the starter there... Lopp gave it to them... Did a great job at the new spot... Picked up the position quickly... His versatility should be a big help next fall... A smart player, Lopp proved in the spring he could switch from one position to the other during a game without missing a beat... Ran at tailback in the spring game and gained 86 yards on 11 carries... Had an 11-yard scoring run... Possesses good speed and exceptional running ability... Has good leg drive and acceleration... A fine receiver coming out of the backfield... Has been a solid lead blocker in Carolina's multiple-I attack... A hard worker who loves the game... Unselfish and team-oriented... Has the potential to be one of the best backs in the Atlantic Coast Conference... A player in the mold of former Tar Heel fullback Doug Paschal... Carolina's second-leading rusher last season with 407 yards on 101 carries... The team's fourth-leading receiver with 18 catches... Scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the season opener at Navy on a 22-yard run in the closing minutes... Ran for a career-high 72 yards on 12 carries that night... Scored both of the Tar Heels' touchdowns the following week in a 23-13 loss to LSU... His scores came on a two-yard run and a five-yard reception... It was his 19-yard run to the Clemson six-yard line which set up a crucial fourth-quarter touchdown in Carolina's 21-20 win over the Tigers... Had a total of 46 yards that afternoon on eight attempts... Also did a great job of blocking as Humes had a season-high 134 yards... Played behind Eddie Colson at fullback in 1984... Had been red-shirted the previous year... Blue Ridge Conference Player of the Year as a senior at Ashe Central High School... Also named Ashe County Player of the Year... A quarterback as a sophomore, he played running back and defensive back as a junior and senior... Also punted and kicked off... Rushed for 1,530 yards and scored 28 touchdowns in his senior year... Scored more TDs than any other 2-A player in the state... Intercepted six passes for a conference championship team... GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS and Associated Press all-state selection... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Two-time all-conference choice in football, basketball and track... Also lettered in baseball... His grandfather was a four-sport star at Duke in the 1920's... Two uncles played baseball at Carolina in the '30's and another, Billy Myers, played football here in the '40's... His father, William, played on the 1958 freshman football team here... A physical education major... Born December 18, 1964.

Steve Lowe
Linebacker
6-1, 230, Freshman
Westlake, Ohio

One of a trio of young players in the battle for the fourth linebacking spot... Contending with Chuck Sledge and Terry Whisnant for that job... Red-shirted as a freshman last fall... Gained important experience during spring practice... Like most young players, had an up-and-down spring... However, showed he has the ability to play... Needs to become more consistent... Also must work on improving his speed... Has excellent strength... An intelligent player... Made every spring practice... In addition to playing at linebacker, he is a possibility for action on special teams... Won three football letters as a linebacker and punter at St. Edwards High School... All-Independent selection... Team co-captain... Was in on 80 tackles for a 9-1 team as a senior and intercepted one pass... Played on the same team with current Tar Heel teammate Will Sawicki... Shot putter on the track team... As a junior, finished second in the Ohio Weightlifting Championships... Has seven brothers who have also played football at Penn. Dayton, Princeton, Rose-Hulman, Mercyhurst, Muskingum and Akron... Taking pre-business courses at Carolina... Born January 4, 1967.

23

Randy Marriott
Wide Receiver
6-0, 170, Sophomore
Wendell, N.C.

Has worked himself into a prominent backup role... Running behind Eric Lewis at flanker... Has excellent ability... A potential big-play receiver... A very fluid player... Has good quickness... Excellent runner after catching the ball... Lacks confidence and consistency... Once he develops consistency, confidence should follow... Played very well last spring in the Blue-White Game... Had three catches for 72 yards, including a 45-yard touchdown reception from Jonathan Hall... Saw only spot action last fall... Had an 18-yard reception against VML... Was red-shirted in 1984... Competed in track here two years ago... Won the triple jump at the Joe Hilton Invitational and was voted the most valuable performer in the field events... Also won that event at the ACC Indoor Invitational... Came to Carolina from East Wake High School where he had 47 catches for 720 yards and seven touchdowns as a senior flanker... Had 35 carries for 353 yards and three more TDs... Wake County 3-A Player of the Year... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state selection... North Carolina's MVP in the Shrine Bowl... Had eight catches there for 128 yards and his team's only touchdown... Member of the ORLANDO SENTINEL's All-South Team... Caught 41 passes as a junior for 813 yards and six TDs... Had career totals of 111 receptions for 1,933 yards (17.4 yards per catch) and 15 touchdowns and 61 carries for 804 yards (13.2) and nine touchdowns... Earned three letters in football and track and two in basketball... Majoring in RTVMP... Born November 1, 1965.

Bill Martin
Nose Man
6-3, 254, Sophomore
Gray Court, S.C.

Young prospect whose progress has been slowed by injury... Tore a pectoral muscle in his chest in January of 1985 while working in the weight room... Missed all of spring practice that year and most of last season... Went through rehabilitation all fall... Got back into shape late in the year and was in for a couple of plays against Duke in the season finale... Then missed the first two weeks of last spring's practice sessions with a shoulder injury... Did a good job of trying to improve when he got on the field... Having been away from the game for almost a year, he needs to get himself in good enough physical condition to compete for an entire season... Working at the nose position behind Tim Goad and Chris Jacobs, but should get some playing time... A good competitor who is tough to block... Adept at sliding off blockers... Gets off the ball well... Was red-shirted in 1984, his initial season here... Played on a state championship team at Laurens High School in 1983... Laurens was 9-2 and 13-1 in his last two years there, winning two conference titles... All-region defensive tackle... Chosen for the North-South All-Star Game... Majoring in business... Born June 28, 1966.

Mark Maye
Quarterback
6-4, 210, Junior
Charlotte, N.C.

Extremely talented player who missed all of last year's action while rehabilitating his throwing shoulder... Had undergone surgery by noted shoulder specialist Dr. Frank Jobe following the 1984 season... Had seen only limited action that year because of his shoulder problem... Was red-shirted in 1983... His status for the upcoming fall is still unclear... Threw some in spring practice... Worked during the summer under a program set up by doctors and coaches... If he's recovered, it would be a great boost to the Tar Heel offense... Extremely intelligent player... Has great awareness on the field... Possesses outstanding work habits... Grew as a player last year despite not playing... Sat in on all the meetings... Helped with the quarterbacks in practice... Flashed play signs to the quarterbacks during games... Saw college football from a position most players never see... Knowledge of the game increased... 1985 was not a completely lost season because of his diligence and desire... Was a unanimous selection as North Carolina's High School Player of the Year in 1982... Quarterbacked Charlotte Independence to a 9-2 record and a spot in the state playoffs... Named to the All-America teams chosen by Parade, Carnation, Adidas, Mizlou and the National High School Coaches Association... Also chosen as the NHSCA's National Scholar-Athlete of the Year... Selected North Carolina's most valuable back in the Shrine Bowl... Completed 29 of 51 passes in that game for 311 yards, setting records for completions and yardage... Completed 132 of 247 passes as a senior for 2,353 yards and 19 touchdowns... Scored 12 TDs himself... Averaged 40.4 yards a punt... In a 40-39 win over West Mecklinburg, completed 22 of 34 passes for 481 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winning pass with 12 seconds to play... At the time, that was the sixth-highest passing yardage total in high school history... Threw for 459 yards and two touchdowns in a 49-48 win over South Mecklinburg and added the winning two-point conversion with one second left in the game... Scored three TDs himself that night... Accounted for 5,106 yards of total offense in just over two seasons... Completed 257 of 491 passes for 4,400 yards and 36 touchdowns... Scored 21 TDs... Won three letters in football, basketball and baseball... Two-time all-state basketball choice... His father, Jerry, was a pitcher at Catawba College and in the Minnesota Twins' organization... Majoring in business... Attending Carolina on a Morehead Scholarship, the most prestigious academic scholarship awarded by the University... Born January 30, 1965.

Noel McEachern
Defensive End
6-3, 220, Junior
Fayetteville, N.C.

The leader in the race for the starting spot at defensive end... Has the edge on Joel Freeze and Ron Burton going into pre-season practices where competition for that job is expected to continue... Has seen considerable action in each of the past two seasons after being red-shirted in 1983... A part-time starter at outside linebacker in 1984... Had 29 solo tackles and 19 assists... Played a great game that season against Kansas with nine solo tackles, one assist and three sacks... With a change in defensive schemes, McEachern went to end last year... Shared playing time there with Burton... Got better and better as the season progressed... Then had an excellent spring... Really began to settle in and learn the intricacies of the end position... Won the William Fuller Award as the most physical defensive lineman in spring practice... A dedicated athlete with a lot of ability... Makes the big play... Has good speed and great quickness... Has worked on developing his strength... A very smart player... Has a lot of savvy... Physically tough... A great competitor and a hard worker in practice... Good leader on the field... Was an outside linebacker at Pine Forest High School... Named to the all-state teams picked by the Associated Press and the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS as a senior... All-East, all-city, all-county and all-conference... Selected for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Played on an 11-2 conference championship team as a senior... Majoring in industrial relations... Born December 26, 1964.

Kenny Miller
Kicking Specialist
6-2, 198, Junior
Phoenix, Md.

Struggled last season after a dynamic freshman year... Made just two of seven field goal attempts last fall... However, has the ability to be a very good place-kicker... Proved that in 1984 when he came from nowhere to lead the Tar Heels in scoring... Made 16 of 18 field goal attempts and 18 of 19 extra points for 66 points... Became the regular place-kicker in the third game that year... Was playing wide receiver at the time and had done very little kicking... But, was given the job and responded in outstanding fashion... Booted an Atlantic Coast Conference record 15 straight field goals, the first 15 he attempted... Finally missed twice in the season finale at Duke from 31 and later 50 yards... Had a field goal accuracy mark of 88.9 percent, a school single-season record... Finished 13th nationally in field goals... Longest of the year was a 44-yarder at Memphis State... Had three field goals in that game and three against Maryland... Those three field goals set a school record for most in a game by a freshman and he also set a single-season freshman field goal mark... Was sixth in the ACC in scoring... Missed his first four field goal attempts last fall before hitting from 54 yards against Florida State... That was the longest in Carolina history and was also the longest of the ACC season... Was also successful from 43 yards at Maryland... Tried to play wide receiver while handling the kickoff and long-range field goal duties... Coaches feel that time away from kicking hurt his fundamentals and techniques... Is now concentrating solely on kicking... Also trying to win the punting job... In a very competitive race for the place-kicking job... Remains the top candidate to handle kickoffs... Worked as hard in the spring as at any time since coming to Carolina... Practiced with new dedication... Showed improvement in the spring... Has a big-league leg... Needs more consistency and more work on his techniques... Must avoid streakiness... Best athlete of all the kickers... Has played quarterback and tailback in addition to wide receiver at Carolina... Came here in 1983 and was red-shirted... Played on the top-ranked high school team in Maryland as a junior and senior... Helped lead Calvert Hall to a two-year record of 20-2, playing quarterback as a junior and wide receiver as a senior... Kicked a 43-yard field goal to beat Gilman, 16-13, and give Calvert a tie for the Maryland Scholastic Association championship... Also had a 48-yard field goal against Poly... Named to the Maryland Scholastic All-Star Team... All-state selection... Also lettered in baseball and golf... An industrial relations major... Born May 2, 1964.

Richy Milligan

Ram
6-0, 189, Senior
Fayetteville, N.C.

Did a fine job as a special teams player last fall... Won a letter in that role... Being counted on to play there again this season... Non-scholarship player who could also see action in the secondary... A backup at the ram position... Moved there from quarterback in the spring of 1985... Seems to have a good temperament for defense... Hard worker with a great attitude... Made a big play in one of two 1985 spring games when he returned an interception 28 yards for a touchdown... Quarterback at Pine Forest High School... Led his team to the state eastern championship as a senior... Won all-city and all-county honors... Named his team's MVP... A history major... Born August 15, 1965.

Mike Nusdeo

Ram
6-0, 173, Sophomore
Orange, Conn.

Walk-on at the ram spot in the secondary... Could be a help to the team... Needs work and experience... Tough and has the ability to play... A possibility for special teams... Won three letters in both football and baseball at Milford Academy... A brother, Anthony, was a starting free safety at Central Connecticut... Majoring in art... Born March 10, 1966.

Tom Osborne

Cornerback
5-11, 180, Junior
Fairfax, Va.

A backup at right cornerback... Moved to that spot from free safety during spring practice... Made a good adjustment to the new position and had a fine spring... Has worked hard to become tougher and more aggressive... Has good, quick feet and excellent speed... Intelligent and has a great attitude... An intense competitor... Has seen just spot action over the last two seasons... Was red-shirted in 1983... Came to Carolina from Robinson Secondary School in Virginia... Won four football letters in high school and six in track... Played running back and defensive back and also returned kicks... Had three interceptions as a senior there, including one for a 65-yard touchdown... Returned a punt 55 yards for another TD... All-district selection... Born in Germany... His father is an officer in the armed forces... Excellent student who is majoring in biology... Wants to go to medical school... Born September 28, 1965.

David Page

Quarterback
6-0, 175, Sophomore
Greensboro, N.C.

Non-scholarship player who doesn't have a lot of football experience... Only played two years at Western Guilford High School... A hard worker who wants to make a contribution to the program... Needs to improve fundamentally... Also played four years of baseball and two years of basketball in high school... Played on a state championship baseball team as a senior... A speech major... Born November 4, 1965.

Daryl Parham

Tight End
6-7, 264, Junior
Lynchburg, Va.

A highly skilled athlete with a lot of potential... May have found a home at tight end after playing outside linebacker in 1984 and offensive tackle in 1985... Shifted to this new position last spring... Will be in the fight for playing time this fall... Could be especially effective in goal line and short yardage situations... The blocking techniques he learned at tackle should make him valuable there... Biggest and strongest of all the tight ends... Has good speed and agility... A fine competitor... Very intense... Needs to improve his work habits... Has a good attitude and should do that... Also must cut down on his mental mistakes... Experience will help him in that regard... Was hurt during parts of the spring and that may have set him back some... Has been under fire in game situations... Split time at outside linebacker late in the 1984 season and started a couple of games at offensive tackle last fall... Was red-shirted in 1983... Came to Carolina from Heritage High School... Played defensive end, tight end and offensive tackle there... Named to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in Virginia... All-district selection in both football and basketball... Turned down basketball scholarship offers to accept his football grant at Carolina... 1983 Virginia state champion in the discus... Finished second in the shot put competition and also ran the 300-meter hurdles... Has thrown the discus at Carolina... Majoring in industrial relations... Born July 2, 1965.

Ralph Phifer
Offensive Guard
6-2, 275, Junior
Mooreville, N.C.

In the fight for a starting spot at guard... Goes into the fall behind Tim Brooks at the left guard slot, but has the experience and talent needed to play... Was a backup at guard in 1984... Then was shifted to center and started there the first half of last season... Played a great game in Carolina's 21-14 victory at N.C. State... Also played especially well in a 21-20 triumph over Clemson... Came off the bench in that game to do a fine job in two late fourth quarter touchdown drives... With the emergence of Jeff Garnica as a solid center, Phifer was moved back to guard last spring... With both of last year's starting guards gone, coaches felt his experience and ability were needed there... Really has the versatility and expertise to play any of the three middle blocking positions... A gifted athlete who is very dedicated... One of the team's hardest workers and strongest players... Has fine quickness for a man of his size... A good drive blocker who has also developed into a fine pass protector... Is still improving as a player... Easy-going and quiet off the field... A good, tough kid... A 1983 red-shirt... Center, offensive tackle, defensive tackle, linebacker and defensive end at Mooreville High School... Named to the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state team... All-Piedmont and all-conference... Selected his high school's most outstanding defensive player and best offensive lineman... Started at center for North Carolina in the 1982 Shrine Bowl... Also lettered twice in track at Mooreville... Majoring in sociology... Born December 3, 1964.

Tim Pittman
Tight End
6-4, 223, Freshman
Morganton, N.C.

A non-scholarship player who has made a big contribution on the practice field... Did a fine job with the scout team last fall... A hard worker at tight end... A hustler who is very popular with his teammates... Still very raw physically... Quite coachable and wants to be a part of the program... Played three years of football at Freedom High School... Saw action at defensive tackle, center and punter... A pre-dental student... Born June 26, 1967.

John Reed
Defensive End
6-3, 229, Freshman
Tampa, Fla.

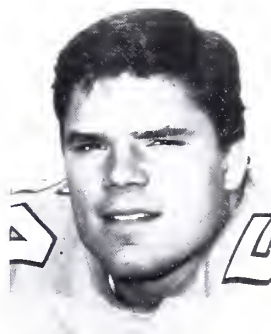

Opened spring practice at linebacker after being red-shirted last fall... Moved to defensive end late in the off-season drills... Got only a week and a half of work at the new position... A great athlete... Strong and active... A very determined young player... Has excellent football instincts... Needs some time to learn this new spot... Will get an opportunity to play... Was a three-year starter at Hillsborough High School... Played defensive tackle and tight end... Had 85 solo tackles as a senior, including 10 sacks and 20 tackles for losses... Caused four fumbles and recovered two... All-Northside, all-county and all-conference... Won all-state honors and was named to Florida's Cream of the Top list... Brett Rudolph
Linebacker
6-2, 228, Junior
Chagrin Falls, Ohio

Here is one of the best defenders in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Had a good, solid season last fall in his first year as a starter... Was in on 162 total hits, tying fellow linebacker Carl Carr for team high... That included 64 solo tackles and 32 primary assists... Also made five tackles for losses and had one sack... Played an outstanding game against Clemson with 19 total hits... Had nine solo tackles that day, two tackles for losses and a sack... Was in on 20 hits against Florida

State and 19 against LSU... Has great instincts for the football... A high school sprinter, he gives Carolina great speed at linebacker... The only experienced player at linebacker, he is being heavily counted on for both great play and solid leadership... Intelligent and intense... Will call defensive signals and also be responsible for getting the defense lined up correctly... Loves to work in the weight room and has excellent strength... A physical and aggressive player... Showed that last spring by winning the Darrell Nicholson Award which goes to the most physical linebacker in the off-season practice sessions... Had an outstanding spring... Ran an interception 35 yards for a touchdown in the Blue-White Game... Coaches experimented with him at both linebacker spots... Saw considerable action as a reserve linebacker and on special teams in 1984... Got that playing time after being red-shirted in 1983... As a senior at Chagrin Falls High School, he had been the most valuable player in both Geauga County and the Chagrin Valley Conference... Played nose guard, tailback, linebacker and full-back... Led his conference in rushing with 1,309 yards and in scoring with 21 touchdowns... Second-leading rusher in the greater Cleveland area... All-county, all-city, all-district and all-conference... Associated Press class-AA all-state selection at linebacker... Was on the CLEVELAND PLAIN-DEALER Dream Team as a junior and senior... Won two letters in football and four in track... Majoring in journalism... Born March 5, 1965.

Will Sawicki
Offensive Tackle
6-4, 266, Freshman
Cleveland, Ohio

Young lineman who needs some experience... Red-shirted last fall... Had a good spring... Improved his run blocking in the off-season practices... Needs some work on his pass protection... A very physical player... Intense and wants to do well... Football is very important to him... Needs a better understanding of the Carolina system... That will come with time and repetitions on the practice field... A team player and a hard worker... A reserve at right tackle going into the new season... Played offensive tackle at St. Edwards High School... Named to the All-Northeast Ohio Team... An all-conference selection... Chosen to the CLEVELAND PLAIN-DEALER All-Scholastic All-Star Team... Picked to play in the East-West All-Star Game... Co-captain of a 9-1 team as a senior... Lettered three times in football... A high school teammate, Steve Lowe, is a red-shirt freshman linebacker at Carolina... His brother, Dave, was an offensive lineman at Mercyhurst College... Majoring in environmental science... Born December 14, 1966.

Chuck Sledge
Linebacker
6-1, 216, Freshman
Raleigh, N.C.

In the scramble for playing time at linebacker... Ended spring practice behind Brett Rudolph at one linebacking slot... Pre-season drills this fall will be very important to him in trying to hold on to that top reserve spot... Red-shirted last year and like the other candidates for the job, lacks experience... Was injured in the 1985 East-West All-Star Game... Suffered a slight fracture of the fibula... Was 100 percent last spring... Has good instincts for the football... Does a good job on pass drops... Speed needs to be a little better... Has worked hard to put on added weight since arriving on campus... Wake County Player of the Year as a senior at Sanderson High School... Also named Metro Player of the Year and Cap-8 Conference Player of the Year... Played linebacker and tight end... All-conference and all-metro as a junior and senior... Also All-East as a senior and named to the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state team... Selected to the East-West All-Star Game... Led Sanderson to a league championship in his final season there, making over 200 tackles... Had five sacks, 22 tackles for losses, three fumble recoveries and three interceptions... A three-year starter with 17 career sacks and 454 tackles... An avid surfer... His father, Chuck, played football at Carolina in the early 1960's... Fine student who is taking pre-business courses... Born June 4, 1967.

Quint Smith
Wide Receiver
6-2, 187, Junior
Alexandria, Va.

Came into his own last season as a fine college player... One of the big stars in a dramatic 21-20 victory over Clemson... Had four clutch receptions in the closing minutes of that game as Carolina scored on two long drives to come from behind and win... Was pressed into action during the first of those touchdown marches when starting split end Eric Streater injured a shoulder while making a diving catch... Smith had only seen spot action in the first eight games of the year as Streater's backup... Came in and made a spectacular 17-yard diving catch on a third-and-nine play to keep the drive alive... Then had 17 and 12-yard receptions in the final 70-yard TD drive... The 12-yarder came with three defenders around him at the Tiger one-yard line... Then set up the winning touchdown... With Streater sidelined, he played a great deal in the final two games against Virginia and Duke... Did a good job in spring practice... Ran with the number one offense most of the spring with Streater plagued by a hamstring pull... Goes into the fall as the starter at split end... Confidence level is now very high... Has the speed to be a deep threat in the passing game... A very fluid runner... Has good size and has become a more aggressive player... Got only limited playing time in 1984 after being red-shirted the previous year... At T.C. Williams High School, made 50 career catches for 700 yards and eight touchdowns... Twice an all-region and all-district selection... Named offensive MVP on his team which won the Northern District championship and finished second in the region... Lettered three times in football, once in soccer and four times in track... Sprinter and long jumper... Majoring in journalism... Born May 11, 1965.

Rod Snyder
Defensive Tackle
6-4, 230, Sophomore
LaVale, Md.

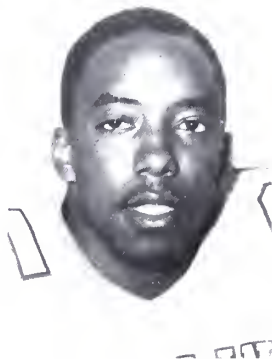

Moved from fullback to the defensive front in spring practice... Saw limited action last year after being red-shirted in 1984... Coaches feel he could add good depth on defense... Got off to a good start at the new position... Picked up things quickly in the spring... Still has a ways to go, but made good improvement... Progress was slowed by an injury which sidelined him the last two weeks of the off-season work... Made a couple of big plays in the spring scrimmages... An intelligent player who has good football sense... Needs experience on defense... Has good work habits... Was a linebacker and fullback at Allegany High School... Captain of an undefeated state championship team as a senior... Had played on a city and regional championship team as a junior... All-city, all-league and all-area... Chosen for the East-West Shrine Game and the Coaches' All-Star Game... Lettered four times in football, basketball and track... Scored 16 points a game and averaged 13 rebounds in basketball... All-city and all-league in basketball... City and regional shot put champion... Finished third in the state in that event... Industrial relations major... Born February 23, 1966.

Steve Steinbacher
Offensive Guard
6-3, 275, Sophomore
Newton Square, Pa.

Fighting for a starting spot at guard... Ended the spring as the number two man behind Pat Crowley on the right side of the line... Has the ability to be a starter and an exceptional player... An intelligent player... Has a good awareness of the game... Also has some experience... Played in a reserve role last season... Started once because of an injury to Pat Sheehan... Capable of playing any of the five interior blocking positions... A good understanding of the offense and his physical talent give him that valuable versatility... Had a good spring... A confident player... Has fine strength and is a competitor in the weight room... Physically tough... Has developed into a good pass blocker... Might be the long snapper this fall... Red-shirted in 1984, his first season here... Played offensive guard and defensive tackle at Radnor High School... Won three letters and was team captain as a senior... All-league and all-county... Picked to the Main Line All-Star Team... Received Delaware County Coaches Association outstanding player awards for an offensive lineman and defensive tackle... Played in the All-Star Hero Bowl... Lettered twice in basketball and served as team captain as a senior... His father, Donald, was an offensive lineman at Penn State under Rip Engle and Joe Paterno... An economics major... Born January 7, 1967.

Eric Streater
Wide Receiver
5-9, 154, Senior
Sylva, N.C.

Rates as an all-star candidate at split end... Carolina's second-leading receiver last fall with 24 catches... Those receptions accounted for 424 yards, an average of 17.7 yards a catch, and four touchdowns... Did not play in the last two games after injuring a shoulder against Clemson... Suffered a broken clavicle while making a spectacular catch in that game... Finished eighth in the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving... Had a career-high six catches at Maryland... His touchdown plays covered 75 yards against VMI, 15 yards at Maryland and 34 and six yards against Wake Forest... The 75-yard catch against VMI equalled the sixth-longest in school history... Also was a starter at split end in 1984 after seeing only spot action in 1983 and being red-shirted in 1982... His 21 catches as a sophomore included four for touchdowns... Those scores came against Navy, Kansas, Maryland and Virginia... Also threw a 40-yard touchdown pass against the Cavaliers that season off a reverse... Missed much of last spring's practice sessions with injuries... Goes into the fall as the backup on the depth chart because he missed so much of the spring work... Needs to become a more durable player... Doesn't have great size, but is a clutch player... Makes the big play when it has to be made... The sensational catch on which he was injured last fall against Clemson is indicative of that... A craftsman at split end... Quick and elusive off the line of scrimmage... Despite his lack of size, he is an aggressive blocker... A very confident and consistent receiver... Should finish his career as one of the school's top 10 all-time leading pass-catchers... Has a great personality and is one of the team's most popular players... Led Sylva-Webster High School to the class 2-A state championship in 1980 and to the Division II playoffs as a senior in 1981... Played quarterback and defensive back, punted and returned kicks... In his last two years there, he completed 106 passes for 2,036 yards and 20 touchdowns and averaged 5.5 yards a rush... Named North Carolina's most outstanding 2-A athlete as a senior... Associated Press all-state selection and Centenary All-America... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Won three letters in football and basketball and four in track and baseball... His brother, Steve, was an All-ACC defensive back and punter at Carolina in 1980... Had another brother, Jimmy, who played quarterback at Tennessee from 1976 to 1979... Majoring in industrial relations... Born March 21, 1964.

James Thompson
Fullback
5-11, 224, Sophomore
Lumberton, N.C.

Fullback

A standout in spring practice... Did a great job in the off-season work... His play was so impressive that coaches were able to experiment with starting fullback Brad Lopp at tailback... They felt Thompson could handle the fullback duties if they moved Lopp to the other position... Ran for 99 yards on 12 carries in the Blue-White Game... Had a 21-yard touchdown run... Big, strong and powerful... Great leg strength makes him tough to bring down... Built low to the ground, he bounces off tacklers... Has good overall athletic skills... A fine blocker... Will get a lot of playing time this fall... Heads into the new season as the number two fullback behind Lopp... Did not become prominent more quickly because of a leg injury... Injured a knee during the 1984 season and was red-shirted... That injury kept him out of 1985 spring practice and put him behind the other running backs... Spent all of last season trying to catch up... Accomplished that in the spring and now looms as an important figure in the Tar Heel attack... Averaged 8.4 yards a carry and gained 1,056 yards as a senior at Lumberton High School... Played his first three years at South Robeson High... Was all-conference at South Robeson as a junior and at Lumberton as a senior... Played in the same backfield there with current Georgia tailback Tim Worley... An All-East 4-A selection... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Listed in America's Outstanding Names and Faces... Undecided on a college major... Born December 5, 1965.

82

Dave Truitt
Tight End
6-4, 232, Senior
Gaithersburg, Md.

Has split time at tight end with Arnold Franklin for the past three seasons... With Franklin gone to the NFL, Truitt is a top candidate to move into his starting place... Will have to win that job in the fall, however... Suffered a fractured knuckle in his first scrimmage last spring and missed the rest of the off-season drills... That allowed Damon Hueston to grab the starting berth... Truitt goes into the fall number two on the depth chart... Is going to play a lot and could win the starting spot... A very gifted receiver... Not as spectacular as some, but a very solid football player... Doesn't make mental mistakes... Steady and reliable... Intelligent and plays with poise... Has good football awareness... Possesses excellent speed for a tight end... That speed has allowed him to be used in a number of different positions in various offensive sets... Has developed into a good, consistent blocker... Also has become a more durable and physical player... His play will be an important factor in the success of the Tar Heel season... Saw only spot action as a freshman in 1982... Then was the team's third-leading receiver in 1983 with 18 catches... Had a career-high five catches that year against Memphis State and his only career touchdown on an eight-yard reception against William and Mary... Suffered a knee injury early in 1984 and was unable to return to action... Was granted a hardship ruling and an extra year of eligibility... Made nine catches last season... Played a great game against Wake Forest with two catches and outstanding blocking... Has started on occasion in his career... Played tight end and defensive tackle at Gaithersburg High School... All-metro, all-county and all-league... Won two letters in football and one each in basketball, baseball and track... His brother, Steve, was the starting center at Wake Forest in 1980 and 1981... Majoring in industrial relations... Born February 18, 1964.

Dan Vooletich
Free Safety
6-1, 191, Freshman
Ann Arbor, Mich.

Fine prospect in the secondary... Red-shirted as a freshman last fall and played on the scout team... Did a good job in spring practice... Began to mature and develop the awareness needed at free safety... Working behind Danny Burmeister at this position... Lacks only experience... Even though a young player, he already is a good leader... Knows what it takes to be an outstanding player... Comes from a great football background... His father, Milan, is a college coach... Worked as an assistant at Michigan before being named defensive coordinator at Rice... Dan was a defensive back at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School... All-South Central Conference... Named all-metro, all-state and All-West by the DETROIT FREE PRESS... Played on an 11-1 team which won the class A state championship and was ranked 25th in the nation by USA TODAY... Captain of that team... Intercepted six passes and recovered five fumbles... Averaged 12.6 yards on 17 punt returns... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born July 20, 1966.

Donnie Wallace
Defensive Guard
6-3, 275, Junior
Everetts, N.C.

Coming off the best spring practice of his Carolina career... Worked at defensive guard during the off-season drills and did an outstanding job... With Dennis Barron sidelined, Wallace got plenty of playing time and a lot of repetitions... Was shifted to guard from tackle because coaches didn't know how last year's knee injury would effect Barron this fall... Wallace moved in, took over the position and heads into the new season as the starter... Worked very hard and made himself a better football player... Really blossomed during the spring... One of the defensive line's best athletes... Has good size and strength... Extremely quick... Has worked at becoming tougher physically... Played behind Reuben Davis at tackle last year... Also saw action at other spots in the defensive front and started on occasion... Played as a backup at nose guard and tackle in 1984... Had been red-shirted the previous year as an offensive lineman... Was a two-way player at Roanoke High School... Parade and Adidas All-America as an offensive guard and defensive tackle... Four-year starter at both positions... Three times an all-area, all-conference and All-East choice... Only player to be on the GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS all-state team in both 1981 and 1982... Associated Press all-state selection as a senior... Selected to the ROANOKE TIMES Top Five in North Carolina... Played in the Shrine Bowl... In addition to his four football letters, also won four in track and basketball... State shot put champion as a sophomore and at the National Junior Olympics... Finished eighth in that event at the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships in 1984 and seventh in 1985... Selected by the Roanoke faculty as the school's best all-around student as a senior... Very talented musically... Plays the piano, saxophone, trumpet, clarinet and drum... Also sings... An art major... Born October 29, 1964.

Gordon Walters
Strong Safety
6-1, 188, Senior
Elkin, N.C.

Non-scholarship player... Injured last fall... Missing a lot of practice has left him behind the other players at this position... Lacks experience and needs a lot of work... Has a good attitude and is willing to work... A transfer from Lenoir-Rhyne where he played two years of football and baseball... Was a linebacker and tight end at Elkin High School for three years... Played four years of baseball there... Majoring in physical education... Born August 2, 1965.

Carl Watts
Offensive Guard
6-4, 265, Freshman
Hampton, Va.

Finished spring practice in strong fashion... Opened the off-season drills at center... Was then shifted back to guard, the position he played during a red-shirt season last fall... Did a fine job there... Goes into the new season as a backup at left guard... Has good feet and may be the quickest young lineman on offense... Plays hard and is a fine competitor... Played at Bethel High School with current Tar Heel teammate Creighton Incorminias... Carolina strong safety Walter Bailey is also a Bethel alum... Watts played offensive guard and defensive tackle there... Won all-district and all-region honors... Scored two touchdowns on offense by recovering fumbles for TDs... His line coach at Bethel was Ron Spruill, former two-time all-conference guard at Carolina... Won three letters in football, two in baseball and one each in basketball and track... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born May 30, 1967.

85

Todd Weddle
Defensive End
6-2, 226, Freshman
Mount Airy, N.C.

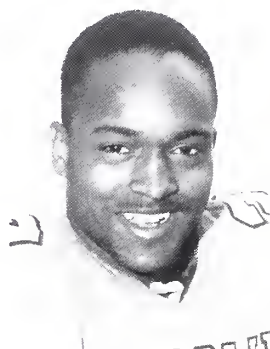

Good utility player... Played six positions during spring practice and never complained... Worked at all four of the defensive line spots and at both linebackers... Won the Mike Chatham Award as the most outstanding walk-on in the spring work... Has the ability to play on the major college level... Runs well... Has good size and strength... A special teams possibility... Lettered twice in football as a running back and linebacker at Mount Airy High School... Two-way all-conference choice as a junior and all-conference linebacker as a senior... As a senior, was captain of a conference championship team... Also lettered twice in basketball and three times in track... Majoring in chemistry... Born November 5, 1967.

Kit Wellman
Kicking Specialist
6-0, 165, Freshman
Clayton, Mo.

Soccer-style candidate for the place-kicking duties... A non-scholarship player... Has good work habits... Very intelligent... Fine technician... Has average range... Needs to get stronger... Was a two-year kicker and punter at University City High School in St. Louis... All-conference and all-metro kicker... Team captain as a senior... Played soccer four years, winning all-state honors... Soccer team captain as a senior... Also has an interest in fencing... Plays the oboe... Enrolled in Carolina's General College... Born February 22, 1967.

Larry Whiteside
Cornerback
5-11, 190, Freshman
Morganton, N.C.

A reserve at left cornerback... Was red-shirted last fall... Did a good job on the scout team of developing his techniques and knowledge of the defensive system... Did well in the off-season drills... Showed signs toward the end of spring practice of becoming a more consistent player... A very tough competitor... Wants to play and has worked to improve himself... Has fine skills... Was team captain at Freedom High School as both a junior and senior... Played running back and defensive back... Was hampered in his senior season by an ankle injury... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... Won two letters in football and three in track... Holds all of Burke County's hurdling records... Was fifth nationally in the 110 high hurdles in 1983... Studying in the General College at Carolina... Born January 3, 1967.

Terry Whisnant
Linebacker
6-4, 228, Freshman
Cherryville, N.C.

High school defensive end who was shifted to linebacker in a red-shirt season last fall... More depth was needed at linebacker and coaches felt he had the capabilities to play there... Actually has the athletic ability to play almost anywhere on the football field... Made every practice last spring... Wants to become a better player... Has done extra work to do that... Lacks experience... Needs to be a little bit faster... His progress last fall was slowed by an ankle injury... Will be in the fight for playing time this year... Was an all-state selection at Cherryville High School by the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD... Played tight end there in addition to defense... Named to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina and the DURHAM MORNING HERALD's Foremost 14... As a senior, had 67 tackles, 70 assists, 15 sacks and one interception... All-Piedmont, all-conference and all-county... Conference player of the year... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Won three letters in both football and basketball... Led Cherryville to the state basketball championship as a senior... All-Piedmont, all-conference, all-county and all-state in basketball... Conference player of the year... Named MVP in regionals, district playoffs and state championships... Leading scorer in school history... Enrolled in the General College at Carolina... Born October 17, 1965.

Mitch Wike
Linebacker
6-2, 225, Sophomore
Brevard, N.C.

Stepped forward in the spring and won Carl Carr's old linebacker job... Finding a replacement for Carr had been one of the coaching staff's major goals in the off-season... Wike only saw spot action as a reserve linebacker last fall after being red-shirted in 1984... Did a very good job on special teams... However, needs more game experience at linebacker... Missed the last 10 days of spring practice, including the Blue-White Game, with a broken nose... But, had two outstanding weeks of practice just before getting hurt... Intelligent and picks up things well... Has improved his speed in the last year... Conscientious and intense... Wants to learn and is a hard worker... Selected by coaches to receive the John Bunting Award as the most improved defensive player in spring practice... Was Western North Carolina's Lineman of the Year as a high school senior at Brevard... Played linebacker and tight end... Played on a 12-1 Division II state championship team as a sophomore... Led Brevard to a 14-0 record and another state title as a junior... Named Transylvania County Athlete of the Year after that season... As a senior was named to the GREENSBORO NEWS & RECORD all-state team and to the RALEIGH TIMES Top 25 in North Carolina... All-conference at both tight end and linebacker... Chosen for the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Won three letters in football, four in baseball and one in basketball... Was MVP of his 28-1 conference championship basketball team as a junior... Nominated for a Morehead Scholarship... Active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at Carolina... A business major... Born December 16, 1965.

Chancellor Christopher Fordham

As its chancellor since 1980, Dr. Christopher C. Fordham III has led the University of North Carolina to ever stronger standing as one of the nation's great academic, research and service institutions.

In report after report, the University has placed among the top 20 colleges and universities in the nation and at the top among those in the South or Southeast. The University has been measured by its reputation among peers, the productivity of its faculty and graduates and its success in attracting federal and other outside funds for research and programs, and by each criterion, it has been found excellent.

Building upon those honors, Fordham has directed the University into new areas critical to the nation's future.

Particularly visible among these initiatives have been efforts to extend the University's cooperative efforts with North Carolina's public schools and steps to incorporate technology into all appropriate aspects of the educational process.

The school-related programs have reflected Fordham's philosophy that education is a continuum, with stronger public schools providing greater human resources for the University, which in turn produces the leaders of the future.

Significant efforts have included the Lyndhurst Fellowship Program, which supports bright students who will become the best teachers; the Center for Mathematics and Science Education, which works to increase and improve the supply of qualified secondary school mathematics and science teachers; a College of Arts and Sciences program of workshops and internships for writing and foreign language teachers; and other innovative activities.

The emphasis on educational quality overlaps considerably with the efforts Fordham has directed to gain acceptance for technology in all areas of academia.

The College of Arts and Sciences is conducting a computer-aided curriculum development program with support from IBM Corp., in which computers are being used in language tutorials, English composition and other areas.

The University also is constructing a new computer science building, which will assist faculty members in that area of pursuing the most advanced research. Teaching in computer science has been enhanced by a tele-classroom facility, designed and operated by the Media and Instructional Support Center, which enables classes to be taught concurrently at Carolina and Duke University with full two-way communication.

Fordham's leadership role extends beyond the bounds of the University. He was a founding member of the board of directors of the Microelectronics Center of North Carolina, and he holds other memberships and committee appointments in professional organizations including the Governing Council of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences.

Great strides in the health professions were made while Fordham was dean of the School of Medicine (1971-79) and vice chancellor for health affairs (1977-80). Medical school programs were expanded, faculty strengthened and minority enrollment increased and the school gained national prominence for its excellence and creativity. The Area Health Education Centers program was begun as a way to bring physicians closer to the population in this relatively rural state. A partnership among the state's four academic medical centers, community hospitals and health professionals throughout the state, AHEC has succeeded in achieving a more balanced distribution of doctors and other health professionals and is considered a model for decentralized health education.

New programs also have been undertaken in the other health affairs schools—dentistry, nursing, pharmacy and public health—and a cooperative effort has led to the creation of a Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention.

An impressive list of achievements has been recorded in the Division of Academic Affairs. The implementation of a new curriculum has incorporated basic skills in English, mathematics and foreign languages, as well as broad perspectives in science, in Western and non-Western culture, in aesthetics and in the humanities.

The School of Business Administration has undertaken numerous service programs and, in concert with the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, has begun a center for the study of private enterprise, which will be housed in the new Kenan Center of North Carolina.

Many of the accomplishments of Fordham's tenure as chancellor were mentioned prominently in the report of the University's year-long self-study, which concluded in 1985. The study found the University to be particularly effective in its undergraduate teaching, in scholarship among the faculty, in research achievement and in public service programs.

"This study will help guide the University and the state into reinforced and advanced excellence," Fordham said, "as we approach the 21st century."

A Greensboro native, Fordham is the son of an alumnus and married to an alumna, Barbara. Barbara Fordham is known as one who unstintingly supports and represents the University with her chancellor husband. Their children also have attended the University.

Fordham earned his certificate in medicine from the then two-year medical school at UNC in 1949 and his M.D. from Harvard University. Except for a few short periods away—for military service, dean of medicine at the Medical College of Georgia and a stint as the surgeon general of the United States—he has been in Chapel Hill.

"When one's University calls, it's a very magnetic pull," he said.

While under the influence of that magnetism, he has repaid the University with work that has brought personal distinction as well. Fordham is a former member of the Association of American Medical Colleges' executive council and past chairman of the AAMC and the National Council of Deans and Southern Regional Deans.

He is a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine, a distinguished service member of the AAMC, a fellow of the American College of Physicians, a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences and a member of several other honorary societies.

He is an accomplished researcher and has written widely on health policy.

But above all, Fordham is the leader of the University at Chapel Hill, a job he continues to approach with missionary zeal.

"The University, I think, has a very special role," he has said, "because it's where youngsters can reach for the stars. There are 13-year-olds all over the state of North Carolina who are striving to make better grades for one reason right now at this stage in their lives—so they can go to Carolina. And that's a wonderful aspiration for them to have."

Athletic Director John Swofford

The director of athletics at the University of North Carolina is John Swofford, nationally recognized as one of the best administrators in intercollegiate sports.

Swofford, a 1972 Carolina graduate, is in his seventh year as head of his alma mater's Athletic Department. The Tar Heel program is one of the biggest in the South, fielding 26 varsity teams, and one of the finest in the nation in terms of success both on and off the playing field.

In his short time as athletic director, Swofford has already seen Carolina teams win 36 Atlantic Coast Conference championships and eight national collegiate titles. The Tar Heels have won or tied for first place in the race for the Carmichael Cup, symbolic of overall athletic excellence in the ACC, each of his six years on the job.

Certainly, credit for Carolina's on-the-field success must go to Swofford for his behind-the-scenes work. While the day-to-day running of the Athletic Department is a time-consuming task alone, Swofford has also undertaken several special projects on campus and has served on some of the most important national committees in college sports.

With Swofford in the lead, Carolina successfully completed a $34,000,000 fund-raising drive to construct the new Smith Center, a complex which includes a 21,500-seat basketball arena and an Olympic-size swimming pool. Swofford planned the construction of the Student-Athlete Development Center as an addition to Kenan Fieldhouse. That building, a one-of-a-kind facility, includes the most modern equipment to aid student-athletes in their studies and physical development.

Since Swofford became athletic director, a new tennis stadium and clubhouse have been built; Boshamer Stadium has been expanded and dressing rooms renovated for the Tar Heel baseball team; three new holes have been completed at Finley Golf Course; the football practice fields have been rebuilt and lighted; a new Astroturf playing field installed; and the Fetzer Field track has been resurfaced.

In addition, the automation of the Athletic Department has been completed; Carolina has hosted four national championship tournaments; the academic support staff has been expanded; and major changes have been made in the school's football schedules.

Nationally, Swofford was appointed to the NCAA Football Television Committee in 1982 and was named its chairman in 1984. He handled the committee during the stormy dispute over football television rights. He is a member of the NCAA Football Post-Season Bowl Committee and is a past chairman of the ACC Television Committee.

In June, he was elected to the 50-member executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

These accomplishments are a good indication Swofford is well aware of the problems facing intercollegiate athletics and how to cope with them. But, Chancellor Christopher Fordham knew that when he named him to replace Bill Cobey as athletic director on May 1, 1980. Cobey had resigned to pursue public office.

"My single greatest desire is for our program to be a shining example that you can be nationally competitive at the major-college level without breaking the rules or prostituting academic integrity," says Swofford.

"Our approach is not complicated. I tell our coaches three things: we want to be competitive for ACC championships, we expect our student-athletes to graduate and cheating will not be tolerated. If we accomplish those things, we can be termed successful.

"Our basic philosophy is not complex. It is a commitment to excellence and integrity; to represent our University in a positive way and reflect her character and values; and to care about our athletes as people, constantly keeping in mind that their positive development as human beings is paramount.

"We generally try to base our program on stability and continuity. There are going to be cycles in athletics. There are going to be peaks and valleys. The key is not to get too deep in the valley, not to stay there very long and not to panic everytime a valley comes. We have quality people and we are committed to them."

A native of North Wilkesboro, N.C., Swofford first came to Carolina as a Morehead Scholar in 1967. He graduated in 1971 with an A.B. in psychology and industrial relations.

He played quarterback and defensive back on Tar Heel football teams in 1969, 1970 and 1971. Those last two teams went to the Peach Bowl and Gator Bowl. He tied a then-school record against Vanderbilt in 1969 by throwing three touchdown passes in one game.

Swofford was named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll and Who's Who in College Athletics. He also served as president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus.

In 1973 he earned a masters in athletic administration at Ohio University. In his time there Swofford served as a graduate assistant to the assistant business manager of athletics.

From 1973 to 1976 he was athletic ticket manager and assistant to the director of athletic facilities and finance at the University of Virginia. His duties in that job included directing all ticket sales, advertising and promotions. He also handled game contract settlements, stadium and coliseum operations and team travel arrangements.

He returned to Carolina in May, 1976 as assistant athletic director and business manager, handling all the athletic department's business affairs. Among his many other responsibilities were handling fund-raising affairs, team travel and the athletic dining hall. He also coordinated sports camps.

Although he remained assistant athletic director, Swofford dropped the business manager title and was named assistant executive vice-president of the Educational Foundation in January, 1979. In that job he was in charge of the overall financial structure of the Athletic Department. His position with the Educational Foundation involved general office procedures, membership services and fund-raising.

Swofford is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and is on the alumni advisory board for the Ohio University Sports Administration program. He received the Distinguished Alumni Award from Ohio University in 1984.

Swofford serves on the board of directors of the Chapel Hill Ronald McDonald House and North Carolina National Bank in Chapel Hill. He is also on the board of directors of North Carolina Amateur Sports which is handling the 1987 National Olympic Festival.

A regular jogger, Swofford enjoys reading and tennis. He is married to the former Becky Owens of North Wilkesboro. They have two children, Autumn and Chad.

Head Coach Dick Crum

The head football coach at the University of North Carolina is Dick Crum, one of the most successful and highly-respected men in his profession.

In eight seasons at Chapel Hill, Crum has put together a record of 60-31-2. Counting four years at Miami of Ohio, the famed "Cradle of Coaches," his overall record is 94-41-3. That's a winning percentage of .692 and ranks him among the 20 winningest coaches in the game today.

Crum has an incredible record in post-season play. Counting two wins at Miami, he is 6-1 in bowl games. His victories have come over Michigan, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Texas twice.

From 1979 to 1982, Crum won four straight bowl games at Carolina. No other Atlantic Coast Conference coach has ever won more than two bowl games in a row. In fact, Crum has won more bowl games than any coach in ACC history.

Under Crum's direction, Carolina finished in the top 10 of both national wire service polls in 1980 and 1981. Crum is the only ACC coach ever to make both final top 10's in back-to-back seasons. The Tar Heels were ninth and 10th in 1980 and eighth and ninth in 1981.

In just eight seasons at Carolina, Crum has already become the school's second-winningest coach ever. With 60 career wins, he passed College Football Hall of Famer Carl Snavely last year. Bill Dooley is the all-time Tar Heel leader with 69.

Crum has produced seven first-team All-Americans in his last six seasons—outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor and offensive guard Ron Wooten in 1980, offensive guard David Drechsler in 1981, Drechsler and defensive tackle William Fuller in 1982 and Fuller and offensive tackle Brian Blados in 1983.

All of those players, plus 11 others coached by Crum at Carolina, have gone on to become starters in the National Football League or the United States Football League. Taylor has been named the NFL Defensive Player of the Year four times, while tailback Kelvin Bryant is a past USFL Player of the Year.

Since Crum became the head coach, Carolina has had 41 All-ACC players.

During his eight years in Chapel Hill, Crum has coached nine 1,000-yard rushers. In that short period he has already produced three of Carolina's top five career leaders in total offense and rushing and four of the school's five all-time leading passers.

The Tar Heels have led the ACC in total offense and total defense three times each in the past six seasons. Carolina is the only school to lead the league in both at least once in those six years.

Now the dean of ACC coaches, Crum took the Tar Heel job in January, 1978. He replaced Dooley who had resigned to become athletic director and head coach at Virginia Tech. Prior to coming to Chapel Hill, Crum had compiled a 34-10-1 record in his four seasons at Miami.

In announcing the selection of Crum as Dooley's replacement, Carolina Chancellor Ferebee Taylor said, "Dick Crum was the unanimous choice of our nominating committee to be the new football coach.

"Coach Crum's outstanding record at Miami University speaks for itself and we are confident that under his leadership, our football program will continue to maintain Carolina's high standards of excellence."

It has done just that. Crum got off to a rough start as his first Tar Heel team suffered a disappointing 5-6 season in 1978. The problems of players adjusting to a new coaching staff and an assortment of injuries were major reasons for that losing mark. However, Crum quickly brought Carolina back to national prominence.

His 1979 team had the best record in the ACC, going 8-3-1. The Tar Heels were the only team in the country to defeat Pittsburgh that year and toppled Michigan, 17-15, in the Gator Bowl.

That was followed by a great 11-1 season in 1980. The Tar Heels won the ACC championship and led the league in scoring, scoring defense, total offense, total defense and rushing offense. Crum was ACC and District III Coach of the Year. Carolina whipped Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl. The 11 victories equalled the most in school history.

The Tar Heels then went 10-2 in 1981, leading the ACC in total offense and scoring. Carolina climbed to as high as third in the national polls during the season, the highest the Tar Heels had been since 1948. The season might have been even better had it not been for an early injury to Bryant and a mid-season injury to quarterback Rod Elkins. Carolina capped the year with a 31-27 triumph over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

In 1982, the Tar Heels set school records for total offense and passing yardage while compiling an 8-4 record. Carolina was second nationally in total defense and sixth in total offense. The Tar Heels defeated seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10, in the Sun Bowl.

Crum's team led the ACC in total offense and total defense in 1983 and set another school total offense record in the process. At one point during the year the Tar Heels climbed to third in the national polls, but finished 8-4 with a Peach Bowl loss to Florida State.

Playing with a great number of freshmen and sophomores, Carolina has gone just 10-11-1 over the past two seasons. The Tar Heels have played well at times during this period, but have been plagued by the inconsistency of youth.

Although Crum's teams have rewritten Carolina's total offense and passing records, he is best known for his defensive philosophies. And he still says defense is the key to Carolina's football success.

"I think you win championships with good defensive teams," he says. "Fundamentals are also so important in football. If you play fundamental and sound football and don't make mistakes, you're going to win a lot of games."

A stickler for the smallest detail, Crum is a master with the x's and o's of the game. However, what he enjoys most is dealing with the many individuals which make up a football squad.

"I think one of the reasons Coach Crum has had success is that he really cares about his players," says Bryant, the Baltimore Star tailback who rates as one of the best runners in the game. "He's interested in everything you do, on the field and off it. I know he's helped me in a lot of things not even related to football."

One reason for Crum's good rapport with his young players may be his 12 years of experience as a high school coach. He considers those years great preparation for his college coaching career.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Crum attended Boardman High School and then enrolled at Muskingum College. He later transferred to Mount Union College where he received his B.S. degree in 1957, majoring in mathematics with a minor in physics. He also holds an M.Sc. from Western Reserve.

In football, Crum was a non-scholarship halfback. He saw most of his action with the B team and it was there he learned of the great importance of fundamentals.

The first six years of his coaching career were spent as an assistant at Boardman High, Sandusky High and Warren Harding High, all in Ohio.

Crum accepted his first head coaching position in 1963 at Mentor High School in Mentor, Ohio. He compiled a six-year record of 50-9-1, winning three league championships. His record in his last four seasons there was 38-2.

He joined Bill Mallory's Miami staff as defensive backfield coach in 1969.

He was appointed defensive coordinator in 1970 and held that position for four years. While he was defensive coordinator his teams ranked third, fifth, sixth and first in the nation in total defense. The Redskins also topped the nation in rushing defense in 1973.

When Mallory left Miami to become head coach at Colorado after the 1973 season, Crum was named his successor. He won three Mid-American Conference championships in four years there and twice took teams to the Tangerine Bowl. The Redskins defeated Georgia, 21-10, in 1974 and South Carolina, 20-7, in 1975 in those post-season appearances.

Crum's Miami teams had records of 10-0-1 in 1974, 11-1 in 1975, 3-8 in 1976 and 10-1 in 1977.

In his only losing season at Miami, the Redskins lost nine of their 11 starting defensive players in their first two games. After an 0-6 start, however, Crum rallied his team to three wins in its final five games. The Redskins then capped that comeback by going 10-1 in 1977, coming from behind eight times to win.

At Miami, Crum was following in the coaching footsteps of such men as Woody Hayes, Ara Parseghian, John Pont, Bo Schembechler and Mallory. It has been because of their success that the Oxford school has gotten its "Cradle of Coaches" nickname.

Like all those men Crum was extremely successful at Miami. He was selected Ohio Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1975, MAC Coach of the Year in 1974 and District Five Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1977. His 1974 squad finished the season ranked 10th in the wire service polls, the highest rating of any team in MAC history. His three MAC championships are the most ever won by a Redskin coach.

Twice Crum was selected to serve as head coach in the Ohio Shrine Bowl Game. He has also been on coaching staffs in the All-America Bowl, the Coaches' All-America Game and the Japan Bowl.

Crum has served on several committees of the American Football Coaches Association and is currently a member of the AFCA's board of trustees.

While at Miami, Crum had been considered for other head coaching jobs. However, he had always asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration.

"I had been interviewed at other schools," he says, "but I always left those meetings with very mixed feelings and emotions. After I interviewed at Carolina, I had no such qualms. On the plane ride back to Ohio I told my wife, 'If they offer me the job, I'm going to accept.'"

"The thing that influenced me more than anything else is the fact that Carolina is an excellent academic institution as well as a home of great athletics."

In his spare time Crum enjoys fishing and the outdoors in general. Each summer his family takes a two-to-four week fishing trip to Canada. Their vacation spot is in an area just north of North Bay.

Crum also has a great interest in flying. He obtained his pilot's license in the summer of 1980.

In 1984 Crum received the Alumni Service Award from Mount Union College, the highest honor his alma mater bestows on an alumnus. It was "presented in recognition of outstanding achievement in chosen or professional fields, service to the college and community service."

Dick is married to the former Shirley Moncur of Delaware, Ohio. She is an Ohio University graduate with degrees in physical education and library science. They have three sons—Mike, 23, and twins, Jeff and Joel, 21.

Bobby Cale (Assistant Coach)

Bobby Cale, a former star North Carolina player, is now in his fifth season as a member of the Tar Heel coaching staff.

Cale worked at Carolina for two years as a graduate and part-time assistant coach. He became a full-time staff member in the spring of 1982.

For the last four years Cale has worked with the Tar Heel running backs. In that time Carolina produced four 1,000-yard rushers—Kelvin Bryant in 1982, Tyrone Anthony in 1983 and Ethan Horton in 1983 and 1984. The addition of Lawson Holland to the coaching staff last spring has allowed Dick Crum to give Cale an important new assignment—being a major evaluator of the nation's top high school talent.

During his playing days in Chapel Hill, Cale was a four-year starter at cornerback. He led the Atlantic Coast Conference in interceptions in 1976 with five and finished his career with 12, tying him for second place on the school's all-time interception list.

After graduating in 1979, Cale signed a free agent contract with the Seattle Seahawks. He then returned to Chapel Hill that fall to serve as a graduate assistant under Crum.

After spending one year in private business, Cale came back to Carolina in 1981 as a part-time assistant. He was elevated to his full-time post the following spring.

A native of Middletown, Del., Cale and his wife, Emily, have two daughters, Charmain and Madison.

Fred Chatham (Strong Safety Coach)

After coaching Carolina's tight ends last year, Fred Chatham returns to defense this fall to work with the Tar Heel strong safeties.

Chatham, heading into his fourth year as a full-time member of Dick Crum's staff, had worked in the secondary in his first two seasons on the job before handling the tight ends in 1985. He went back to defense last spring, filling a vacancy left by the resignation of Dale Evans.

A native of Elkin, N.C., Chatham is a 1974 Carolina graduate. He was a Dean's List student and played varsity baseball here.

He began his football coaching career at Elkin High School as an assistant in 1977. He served as head coach there from 1978 to 1980 and was named Tri-County Coach of the Year in 1979.

Chatham returned to Chapel Hill in 1981 and was a part-time assistant for the Tar Heels for two seasons. He was elevated to a full-time position in 1983 when NCAA rules were changed, allowing schools to hire a ninth assistant.

A fine all-around athlete, Chatham played on Virginia prep football championship teams at Woodbury Forest in 1968 and 1969. He played semi-professional baseball in Winston-Salem at one time and also once qualified as a member of an Oklahoma rodeo circuit.

Chatham and his wife, Pam, have a year-old son, Thurmond.

Marc Dove (Secondary Coach)

Marc Dove, once voted the best defensive player in the Southwest Conference, will again coach the Carolina secondary.

Dove will work with the Tar Heel cornerbacks and free safeties as he did last fall. His star player last year, senior cornerback Larry Griffin, tied for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead in interceptions. Under Dove's guidance, Griffin won All-ACC honors although he was playing defense for the first time in his career.

Dove came to Carolina from Mississippi State following the 1983 season. He had been the defensive coordinator there for two years. He coached the Tar Heels' outside linebackers in 1984 before moving to the secondary last season.

A 1972 graduate of Texas Tech, Dove was a three-year regular in the Red Raiders' defensive backfield. He was named Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1971.

In high school Dove had played on a state championship team at San Angelo, Texas. His coach there was Emory Bellard.

After graduating from Tech, Dove worked as a graduate assistant there for one year under Jim Carlen and then spent two seasons as a full-time member of the coaching staff. He went with Carlen to South Carolina in 1975.

After three seasons in Columbia Dove was named defensive backfield coach at Mississippi State in 1978. He was appointed the Bulldogs' defensive coordinator in February, 1982.

Marc and his wife, Judy, have two sons—Zachary Paul and Seth.

Bobby Elliott (Wide Receiver Coach)

Coaching the Carolina wide receivers is Bobby Elliott, who is in his fourth year on the Tar Heel staff.

Elliott's star player last year, Earl Winfield, set a new career pass-catching record at Carolina. In fact, three of the seven leading receivers in school history have played for Elliott.

A native of Iowa City, Iowa, Elliott was a two-time Academic All-America defensive back at the University of Iowa in 1974 and 1975. A history major with a 3.8 grade point average, Elliott was awarded post-graduate scholarships by both the NCAA and the National Football Foundation.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Iowa in 1976 and then served as defensive backfield coach at Kent State in 1977. In 1978 Elliott moved to Ball State where he coordinated the defense and coached the secondary for two years.

Elliott then coached the defensive backs at Iowa State for three seasons. He worked briefly at N.C. State before coming to Chapel Hill in 1983.

Elliott is the son of Bump Elliott, the former head football coach at Michigan and currently the director of athletics at Iowa.

Bobby and his wife, Joey, have a son, Grant, and a daughter, Jessica.

Lawson Holland (Running Back Coach)

The newest member of the Carolina coaching staff is Lawson Holland, a former high school coach who has plenty of college experience.

Holland came to Chapel Hill in June from Clemson where he had been an assistant for seven years. He filled the opening left vacant on Dick Crum's staff when Dale Evans resigned to become athletic director and head football coach at Dorman High School in Spartanburg, S.C.

A native of Mooresville, N.C., Holland will coach the Tar Heel running backs.

Holland's coaching career began as an assistant at Duke in 1977. He became the head coach at Douglas Byrd High School in Fayetteville, N.C. the following year. After one season there, he joined the staff at Clemson, his alma mater.

While at Clemson, Holland coached in three bowl games. He worked with the Tiger wide receivers and one of his players, Perry Tuttle, was a first-team All-America and set the all-time Clemson pass-receiving record.

Holland played quarterback at Clemson during his college days, graduating in 1975. He had been a three-sport star at Mooresville High School, winning nine letters in football, basketball and baseball.

Holland is married to the former Cathy Pool. They have two children, Jake and Katie.

Ted Gill (Defensive Line Coach)

Working with the Tar Heel defensive linemen is Ted Gill, who is beginning his third year on the Carolina staff.

A 16-year veteran in collegiate coaching, Gill came to Chapel Hill from Army in the summer of 1984. His assignment at West Point had also been the defensive front. In fact, most of his coaching career has been spent with defensive units.

Gill, a 1970 graduate of Idaho State, was a two-time

All-Big Sky defensive tackle for the Bengals. After graduation, he stayed on at Idaho State and coached the freshmen in the fall of 1970 as a part-time assistant. He spent the next three seasons as a full-time staff member with responsibilities in the offensive and defensive lines.

Gill then worked two seasons each at Utah and New Mexico State before going to Ball State in 1978 for four years. He coached the defensive line in his first two years there and served as defensive coordinator in the last two.

He coached the defensive line at Cornell in 1982 before going to West Point in 1983.

Ted and his wife, Gloria, have three children—Nichole, Erica and Tracy.

Denny Marcini (Defensive Coordinator and Linebacker Coach)

Coordinating Carolina's defense is Denny Marcini, one of the most respected men in his profession.

Marcini, beginning his ninth year on the Tar Heel staff, works specifically with the linebackers in addition to overseeing the entire defensive unit. Five of his players have won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors—Buddy Curry, Darrell Nicholson, Lee Shaffer, Chris Ward and Micah Moon. Curry is now one of the top defenders in the National Football League.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Marcini was a two-way tackle at Miami University. After graduating in 1964, he served as an assistant football coach at Lakewood St.

Edward High School for eight years. He then was head coach for two seasons, compiling a 17-2-1 record. He also was baseball coach for eight years, posting a 160-39 record.

Marcini returned to Miami in 1974 to coach the offensive guards and centers. He was named the Redskins' defensive coordinator in 1977 and assumed that same position when he joined Dick Crum at Carolina eight years ago. The Tar Heels have led the ACC in total defense three of the past six seasons.

In addition to football, Marcini also enjoys wrestling and has officiated on the high school, college and professional levels.

Marcini and his wife, Betsey, have four children—Jeff, Denny, Melinda and Susie. Denny is a sophomore at Carolina.

Bill Stewart (Offensive Line Coach)

Bill Stewart is beginning his second season as coach of the Carolina offensive line.

Stewart is actually in his second tour of duty in Chapel Hill. He worked here as a part-time assistant during the 1979 season. He returned as a full-time staff member in the spring of 1985 after spending the previous year as offensive line coach at the U.S. Naval Academy.

A native of New Martinsville, W.Va., Stewart is a 1975 graduate of Fairmont State. He served as team co-captain in his senior year there and played on two conference championship teams as a center and guard.

Stewart began his coaching career at Sisterville High School in West Virginia before joining the staff at Salem College for the 1977 and 1978 seasons. He then spent one year working at Carolina in his part-time role.

After working at Marshall University in 1980, Stewart then coached three seasons at William and Mary. He was a member of Gary Tranquill's Navy staff in 1984.

Stewart is married to the former Karen Kacor.

Randy Walker (Offensive Coordinator and Quarterback Coach)

Carolina's offense is coordinated by Randy Walker, who also coaches the Tar Heel quarterbacks.

Walker, beginning his ninth year on the Carolina staff, is in his second season of coordinating the attack and in his fifth as the quarterback coach. In his first four seasons here he worked with the Tar Heel running backs.

A 1976 Miami graduate, Walker played on Redskin teams which compiled a 32-1-1 record. His teams won three Mid-American Conference championships and three consecutive Tangerine Bowl titles.

Walker finished his playing career as the sixth-leading rusher in Miami history. He was selected his team's most valuable player in his senior year after playing tailback, fullback and wingback during the season.

A native of Troy, Ohio, Walker was drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals after graduation. He worked as a graduate assistant for Dick Crum at Miami in 1976 and became a full-time staff member in 1977 as the Redskins went 10-1. He joined Crum at Carolina in 1978.

In his four years of coaching the Tar Heel running backs, Walker had five 1,000-yard rushers. As quarterback coach, he has worked with three of the top four passers in school history.

Walker and his wife, Tammy, have two children—a daughter, Abbey, and a son, Jamie.

Jack Himebauch (Director of Recruiting Services)

The director of recruiting services at Carolina is Jack Himebauch, who is heading into his third season in that position and his ninth at Carolina.

Himebauch coordinates all of the Tar Heels' football recruiting. He also assists coaches of non-revenue sports in recruiting and performs a number of other duties assigned by the director of athletics.

A native of Rocky River, Ohio, Himebauch earned three letters as a tight end at Miami University under John Pont and Bo Schembechler. He led the Redskins in receptions in both 1963 and 1964. Himebauch had a career total of 43 catches for 614 yards and six touchdowns.

After graduating in 1965, Himebauch was an assistant coach under Dick Crum at Mentor High School for four years. He then spent six seasons as head coach at Darien High School in Connecticut.

Himebauch was an assistant at Fordham University in 1976 before returning to Miami and Crum's staff there in 1977. He then came with Crum to Carolina in 1978. During his college coaching career, Himebauch worked with defensive linemen, offensive linemen and receivers.

Jack and his wife, Cheryl, have three sons—Chris, Curt and Jonathan. Chris, a sophomore, is a member of the Carolina swimming team.

John Blanchard (Director of Academic Athletic Affairs)

John Blanchard is beginning his second year as director of academic athletic affairs at Carolina.

In that position, Blanchard heads up the Tar Heel academic counseling program for student-athletes.

A native of Sacramento, Calif., Blanchard is a 1975 graduate of Stanford University. He was voted the most inspirational senior on the 1974 football team there and won first-team All-West Coast honors. He was a first-team Churchmen's All-America and a second-team All-Pac Eight selection.

After graduation, Blanchard became national director of the NCAA's Volunteers for Youth organization. He headed up the first NCAA staff which implemented, administered and supervised the establishment of 22 programs across the country and planned further expansion.

Blanchard obtained his masters degree from San Diego State in 1981. He served as a specialist for the Social Advocates for Youth programs in San Diego in that same year. He then taught sixth grade students at Friendship Christian Schools in Raleigh before becoming executive director of Volunteers for Youth in Carrboro in 1982. He held that position until taking the job at Carolina last year.

Blanchard and his wife, Dawn, have a daughter, Janel.

Mike Marks (Athletic Fitness Director)

Mike Marks, who worked for the late Bear Bryant at Alabama, is in his fifth year as athletic fitness director at Carolina.

Marks' major responsibility is to develop strength and conditioning programs for all Tar Heel athletic teams. He is the first and only strength and conditioning specialist in the Atlantic Coast Conference to be certified by the National Strength Coaches Association.

A native of Richardson, Texas, Marks worked at Alabama for seven years before coming to Chapel Hill. In his first four years at Tuscaloosa, he served as assistant track coach. During his last five years there he supervised the strength and conditioning programs for all Crimson Tide athletes.

While Marks was a member of Bryant's staff, Alabama won two national football championships. Marks also coached six track and field All-Americans there, including an NCAA champion in the shot put.

Marks is a 1974 graduate of Oklahoma State where he played football and participated in track. He was a two-time Big Eight champion in the shot and also a two-time NCAA finalist in that event.

Mike has a great interest in flying and has his pilot's license.

Marks and his wife, Lee, have a daughter, Whitney.

Skip Hunter (Trainer)

Carolina's head football trainer is Skip Hunter, now in his third season at that position.

Hunter has actually been at Carolina since January of 1980. Prior to moving into the head trainer's job, he had been serving as director of physical therapy at the Student Health Service on campus. His responsibilities there included coordinating all medical aspects of rehabilitation for football players who suffered injuries.

Before coming to Chapel Hill, Hunter had been director of sports medicine at the Shamrock Physical Therapy Clinic in Houston, Texas. One of his main duties there was to work with the team physicians for the Oilers and the Astros. He evaluated and treated all athletic injuries for the clinic and also performed pre-season screening tests for the Oilers.

A native of Belton, S.C., Hunter is a 1970 graduate of the University of South Carolina where he majored in biology. He took post-graduate courses at Clemson and then received his B.S. in physical therapy from South Carolina in 1977.

Hunter worked at clinics in Columbus, Ga. and at Duke University before going to Houston in 1978.

Skip and his wife, Jane, have two sons—Jeb and Clay.

Rick Brewer (Sports Information Director)

Rick Brewer is beginning his 19th year in the Carolina Sports Information Office and his 12th as its director.

A native of Winston-Salem, N.C., Brewer is a 1971 Carolina graduate with a degree in journalism.

He served as a student assistant in the sports information office for three years and then was selected the school's first assistant SID upon graduation. He held that position for four years and then was named sports information director in 1975.

Brewer is directly in charge of handling publicity for Carolina's football and men's basketball teams. In addition, he oversees the publicizing of the University's entire 26-sport program.

In 1984 Brewer served as a press officer for the United States Olympic Committee at the Summer Games in Los Angeles. In that role, he worked as a liaison between the media covering the Games and American athletes and coaches. He had undertaken similar duties at the 1982 National Sports Festival in Indianapolis.

For the past four years Brewer has been a member of the media coordination committee which assists the media at the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Basketball Championships. He is a member of CoSIDA, the Football Writers Association of America, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association.

Brewer, a bachelor, is regarded as one of the world's finest parallel parkers and worse dancers.

Dave Lohse (Assistant Sports Information Director)

Dave Lohse is in his eighth year as assistant sports information director at Carolina.

Lohse's major responsibilities include editing the football and basketball game programs and handling publicity for a number of non-revenue sports. He has won several national editing and writing awards from CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America). His football program has been voted second best in the nation.

Lohse has coordinated publicity for seven national championship teams at Carolina, three in lacrosse and four in women's soccer. Last summer he served as a press officer at the U.S. Olympic Committee's National Olympic Festival in Houston.

A 1977 graduate of Purdue University, Lohse worked in the Boilermaker Sports Information Office for three years as a student assistant. He also was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa there.

Lohse spent two years as a graduate assistant in the Carolina Sports Information Office before being named assistant SID in August, 1979.

A native of Griffith, Ind., Lohse is a member of the Football Writers Association of America, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association and CoSIDA. He is also a long-suffering Chicago Cubs fan.

Lohse is a bachelor.

Scott Jared (Assistant Sports Information Director)

Scott Jared is now in his second year as an assistant in the Carolina sports information office.

Jared joined the Tar Heel athletic staff in the summer of 1985 after working in the Sports Information Office at the University of South Carolina.

A native of Durham, N.C., Jared is a 1982 graduate of Tennessee Tech. He worked in the sports information office at Tech for two years, serving as SID on an interim basis during the 1982 football season.

He went to South Carolina in January, 1983 as a graduate assistant in the sports information office there. He handled publicity for the USC women's basketball team for three years, edited several award-winning media guides and assisted with the publicity for other Gamecock athletic teams.

Jared's primary responsibilities in Chapel Hill are in the area of non-revenue sports. However, he also assists with the publicizing of the Tar Heels' football and basketball teams. He is a member of CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America) and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. In judging by CoSIDA last year, his Carolina golf brochure was selected as the best in the nation.

Jared is engaged to be married this fall.

Kenan Stadium

Nestled among the tall pine trees near the center of the Carolina campus is Kenan Stadium. It is here in this beautiful natural valley that Tar Heel football teams have played their games for 59 years.

Kenan Stadium is generally referred to as one of the most beautiful football arenas in the country. Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, some say it is the most beautiful. Little can be done to actually enhance its natural beauty. In fact, most of the work on the stadium has been directed toward keeping up the natural setting.

Inside Sports magazine has rated Kenan

Stadium one of the five best places in America to watch a college football game. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it can't be surpassed.

William Rand Kenan, Jr. deserves the credit for making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and was an 1894 Carolina graduate. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry.

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November, 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

In the first game played there, Carolina defeated Davidson, 27-0, on November 12, 1927.

Carolina's all-time record in Kenan is 181-108-15. The most points scored by the Tar Heels in Kenan came in the third game played there. Carolina whipped Wake Forest, 65-0, in the 1928 season opener.

As originally built, the stadium seated 24,000. However, in later years the benefactor added portable stands and then an upper deck to the permanent stands, bringing capacity to 48,000. Work has been done in the last decade to increase that to 50,000.

After the 1976 season, Kenan Fieldhouse underwent a massive renovation. The building was expanded to 30,000 square feet of dressing rooms, coaches' offices, lounges, meeting rooms, weight-training quarters and other facilities.

A new addition to the fieldhouse will open this fall. A 20,000-square foot building called the Student-Athlete Development Center, it will be a one-of-a-kind facility.

For study purposes, it will contain a language laboratory, a video room, a computer room, a theater-style lecture hall, several reading rooms and numerous tutorial rooms. Carolina's academic counseling staff will have the advantage of using the most modern techniques in helping student-athletes with their studies.

The bottom half of the building will be one of the finest strength fitness areas in the country. Workout rooms and performance laboratories will contain the most current apparatus available.

Besides giving the stadium to the University, Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by his alma mater in 1944.

Capacity crowds have come to be expected in Kenan. Highest attendance at a game there was the standing-room-only crowd of 53,689 which saw the Tar Heels play Clemson in 1983.

The 1983 season also saw another first in the stadium—a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the Atlantic Coast Conference area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset.

In January, 1927 work was just getting underway on Carolina's new football stadium.

The University

A magnificent campus has done much to earn the University of North Carolina the title "Southern Part of Heaven," but the University's renown for natural beauty has been more than equalled by its reputation as one of the world's foremost academic institutions.

In 1985, the University became even more prominently recognized for its quality education.

Part of that distinction came from Richard Moll, author of "The Public Ivys: A Guide to America's Best Colleges and Universities." He picked Carolina as one of eight public universities in the nation equivalent to a traditional Ivy League school at a fraction of the cost.

He also called Chapel Hill the perfect college town:

"No one seems to know how or why it happened, or what ingredients that a perfect college town must have, but it all somehow came together here."

Education writers at The New York Times also praised the University, including it on the list of 221 institutions they call "They Best Buys in College Education."

"Professors try hard to reduce the impersonality of large classes," The Times wrote. "Office hours are available, many courses enroll under 35 students, and honors seminars are limited to five to 10 people... The balmy Carolina weather and beautiful campus also contribute to the high quality of life."

It wasn't the first time The Times singled out the University. Carolina also made the newspaper's "1984-85 Guide to Selective Colleges" placing in the top 6 percent of the 275 colleges rated.

Similarly, a survey published by U.S. News and World Report ranked the University among the top 10 institutions in the nation for the high quality of its undergraduate program.

Those new honors give further credence to a comprehensive evaluation published recently by the National Academy Press. In it, Carolina was ranked as one of the nation's best graduate and research institutions. The faculty was rated as the most outstanding in the Southeast and one of the best in the country.

Other studies have rated various schools and departments as among the best, and the University Library was rated first in the Southeast and 17th in the nation.

Such lofty standing also is reflected in the honors received by faculty members and students. Members of the faculty have won major awards and held top positions in virtually every discipline in which Carolina has a program. Fifty-four Gugenheim fellowships have been awarded since 1951, and numerous Fulbrights and other awards are received each year.

Many UNC students have been named Rhodes Scholars since 1973. The Morehead Scholarship Program, patterned after the Rhodes and considered the best of its kind, brings about 60 outstanding and well-rounded freshmen to Chapel Hill each year.

The Pulitzer Prize has been awarded to University faculty members, alumni and to books published by the UNC Press, one of the best academic presses in the nation.

The faculty's research and scholarship capabilities attract large sums of money each year in research, training grants and contracts. In 1985, for example, the University received the biggest one-year increase in funding from the National Institutes of Health for any U.S. university. NIH receipts to the University rose 37 percent to $52.4 million from $38.3 million in 1984.

The University serves North Carolinians in many other ways. Through its many outreach programs, the University enrolls businessmen, government leaders and public school principals in management courses. Physicians, dentists, lawyers and other professionals participate in teaching and learning programs, and the Division of Extension and Continuing Education offers thousands of state residents a chance to study and learn at home with a wide range of credit and noncredit courses. The Area Health Education Centers program and the Institute of Government are considered models for outreach efforts. The University has received national attention for its role in creating the Research Triangle Park, one of the most promising research and education centers in the world.

The flagship institution of the 16-campus university system, the University at Chapel Hill is the only state-supported campus in North Carolina that is a member of the Association of American Universities, a 50-member organization of the leading universities in the United States and Canada. Carolina became a member in 1922.

Carolina continues to make improvements.

Early in 1985, the University completed a yearlong, self-study, concentrating on its role as a major research university. Strengths were highlighted, but so were areas where improvement was needed to further establish the University as one of the top 10 research institutions in the country.

"We see excellent prospects for developing new initiatives in higher education and for continuing and advancing a tradition of excellence in learning that has accrued over 200 years," said Chancellor Christopher C. Fordham III.

The need for the best facilities also has been recognized. In the last three years, the University has completed the Smith Center, the Walter Royal Davis Library, the Lineberger Cancer Research Center, the Hanes Art Center and the Morehead Chemistry Laboratories. Buildings expected to be occupied this year include the Kenan Center of North Carolina, which will house an institute for the study of private enterprise, and Carmichael Residence Hall. Construction also continues on Sitterson Hall, the new computer science building, and the Public Health and Environmental Sciences Center.

The motivation for Carolina's continuing thrust forward is simple. In 1795 it became the first state university to open its doors, and, as it approaches its bicentennial year, it is striving to continue to advance its tradition of excellence in service to North Carolina and the nation.

"In very few states can the most promising students truly reach for the stars at their own state-owned university," Fordham said.

"That the people have made these outstanding academic resources available—at such a modest cost to the student—is part of the genius of the University of North Carolina."

Background on Carolina

The adoption of light blue and white as the University of North Carolina's colors dates back to the 19th Century.

When the University reopened following the War Between the States most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white. Since society membership was compulsory for all students, the opinions and activities of these organizations were by nature of circumstances all embracing. It was the custom for all men from localities west of Chapel Hill to affiliate with the Di and generally for students from the east to become members of the Phi.

On public occasions such as commencement exercises, the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body and not just one of the societies.

Later, when intercollegiate athletics were established and students began accompanying teams to other colleges or cities, the question of what to wear became a problem. Certainly, the students wanted to be associated with the University, but the school had no official colors. So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but in the University student body.

The light blue worn by Tar Heel students today has many different names. It is called simply light blue, powder blue, sky blue or Columbia Blue among other things. Generally, however, it is just referred to as Carolina Blue. The accomplishments of Tar Heel athletes have made the color synonymous with the University so it now simply bears its name.

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

There are a number of different stories about how the nickname was originally acquired. The two most widely accepted explanations are repeated here. The fact that the production of tar, pitch and turpentine was for many years the state's principal industry is a key element in both stories.

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the War Between the States. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians, who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'n heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

For over 60 years the mascot of North Carolina's football team has been a ram. The current sideline star for the Tar Heels is Rameses IX.

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's unusual sobriquet.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

From that November afternoon in 1924, the deeds and experiences of Rameses I and his successors have been the basis for countless anecdotes.

For instance, there was Rameses I making his first indoor appearance. Huggins was again the originator of the idea, the Tin Can was the scene and a basketball game was the event.

A theatrical debut with bright lights and a chorus was planned for the ram's introduction before a capacity audience. But when Rameses was led to midcourt at halftime, it became evident that he was not housebroken. In addition to being his first, that was also Rameses' last basketball game.

Tar Heel rams have traveled everywhere from New York City (for the Carolina-Notre Dame game in 1949) to Jacksonville for Carolina's Gator Bowl appearances.

Generally, the highlight of each season for Rameses is trying to outwit Duke students who always try to ram-nap him before the traditional big game with the Blue Devils.

Five Carolina football jerseys—numbers 22, 46, 50, 59 and 99—have been retired over the years in honor of the men who wore them.

The number 22 was almost as well known as the athlete who wore it—Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice. One of college football's all-time superstars, Justice was an All-America halfback at Carolina from 1946 to 1949. In fact, those years generally are known as simply "The Justice Era" in Chapel Hill.

Carl Snavelly, Justice's coach, was instrumental in getting number 46 retired. That belonged to Cotton Sutherland, an outstanding back who was killed in an automobile crash while a Carolina student.

Number 50 was Art Weiner, an All-America end in the late Forties. In 1949 Art caught a school-record 52 passes. He was also a great defensive player.

Another end, Andy Bershak, wore 59. A defensive standout, he was an All-America selection in 1939.

Carolina's first All-America, George Barclay, had the number 99. He was a star guard and earned All-America honors in 1934.

The Outlook

With the return of 37 lettermen and 15 starters from last season, The Citadel could field its best football team in years this fall. Long known for their hard-hitting defenses, the Bulldogs could have one of their finest defensive units in 1986. Seven starters are back from a year ago, including a trio of outstanding linebackers—Joel Thompson, Mike Kissenberth and Rick Campbell. Tackle Scott Thompson and end Lance Thompson have all-star potential, as does defensive back Albert Pressley. The offense features the talents of 6-5 senior quarterback Kip Allen, who broke nine school records last fall. He threw for 2,478 yards and 16 touchdowns, completing 55.4 percent of his passes. Starting running backs Warren McGrier and Adrian Williams also are back, along with wide receiver Eric Reddish. Work must be done in the offensive line, but there is experience at every position and a standout guard in Clint Smith. The kicking game is solid. Greg Davis, who has a string of 54 straight PATs, needs just 43 points to become The Citadel's all-time leading scorer.

The Outlook

If Kansas can replace record-setting quarterback Mike Norseth, the Jayhawks could be one of the better teams in the Big Eight this fall. Kansas figures to have one of its best defensive teams in years. There are 27 defensive lettermen back from 1985, including perhaps the best set of linebackers in the Big Eight. The defensive front has good size and depth and the secondary returns three starters. Plus, this will be an experienced unit with six juniors and five seniors expected to start. Offensively, the key to the Jayhawks' success may be Mike Orth, a 6-6 redshirt junior who is the likely starter at quarterback after playing in a backup role from 1982 to 1984. Veterans Mike Rogers and Mark Henderson and junior college transfers Tim Ledford and Scott Schriener should give Kansas a solid ground game and sophomore Willie Vaughn is already one of the Big Eight's top receivers. Four starters are back in the offensive interior, including a pair of standout tackles in Jim Davis and Bob Pieper.

The Outlook

Long known for its explosive offenses, Florida State may have one of the nation's top defenses in 1986. With tackle Gerald Nichols, inside linebackers Fred Jones and Paul McGowan and strong safety Stan Shiver ranking as top all-star candidates, FSU coaches think their defense will be a truly great one. Seven starters return, including all four in the secondary. Offensively, the Seminoles haven't lost a beat. Quarterback Chip Ferguson returns as does six other starters, including dangerous wide receiver Darrin Holloman. Florida State is deep in the backfield with three great players at tailback and five solid fullbacks. In fact, the backfield is so deep and talented that Victor Floyd, the returning starter at tailback, has lost his job to former prep All-America Sammie Smith. The offensive line is anchored by 298 and 281-pound tackles, Pat Tomberlin and Pablo Lopez. The Seminole kicking game may be the country's finest with place-kicker Derek Schmidt and punter Louis Berry.

The Outlook

Despite the loss of 13 starters from last fall, Bill Curry says 1986 will not be a rebuilding year for his Yellow Jackets. Curry feels there is enough quality among Tech's 42 returning lettermen and numerous redshirts to give the school its third straight winning season. If a suitable replacement can be found for quarterback John Dewberry, the Jackets have the potential to be more potent offensively than last season. Virtually all of the skilled players return, led by tailbacks Jerry Mays and Cory Collier, big-play split end Gary Lee and fullback Malcolm King, hero of the All-American Bowl. Mays and Collier combined for 1,172 yards last year and Lee averaged 22.2 yards a catch. Although there are some holes in the offensive line, it is really on defense where Tech faces its biggest challenges. Only three starters return—nose guard Ivery Lee and defensive backs Reginald Rutland and Anthony Harrison. But, Curry is convinced he still has the talent there to again challenge for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

The Outlook

Al Groh enters his sixth season at Wake Forest with a potentially explosive offensive unit, led by All-ACC wide receiver James Brim and lineman Paul Kiser, but a young and inexperienced defense. Mike Elkins, who started four games as a freshman last year, is the number one quarterback and Darryl McGill will move into a prominent role as the Deacs' top running back. Elkins tossed five touchdown passes last fall and McGill ran for 235 yards (5.2 per rush). Another productive player should be receiver Greg Scales, who converted six of his 14 receptions last year into touchdowns. Defensively, Groh must rebuild his entire line, with two-time all-league selection Gary Baldinger the biggest loss. Individual standouts should be cornerback A.J. Greene, who started 10 games as a true freshman last fall, and linebacker Jimmie Simmons. Wake's 4-7 record a year ago included three losses by a total of seven points. Groh is hoping his offense can eliminate those close losses in 1986.

The Outlook

N.C. State's football team will display a new look this fall with a new offensive formation, a new defensive alignment and a new coaching staff headed by Dick Sheridan. Sheridan will run the option-I on offense with All-ACC quarterback Erik Kramer at the controls. The Wolfpack passing attack should be outstanding with the return of Kramer and a fine group of receivers headed by Haywood Jeffires and Nasrallah Worthen. There is more experience in the offensive line than anywhere else on the squad with two-time lettermen at every position but center. There is talent, but a lack of game experience at the running back positions. Defensively, a number of players have been shifted to new positions as the Wolfpack has dropped the wide-tackle six for a "50" alignment. Linebacker Kelvin Crooms, cornerback Nelson Jones, noseguard Sandy Kea and tackle Brian Bulluck are expected to be among the leading State defenders. Another key performer is place-kicker Mike Cofer, who was injured most of last season.

The Outlook

A highly experienced and proven defense will be the key to LSU's 1986 football fortunes. It will be up to that unit to keep opponents at bay until a youthful, but talented offense is able to jell. All-America outside linebacker Michael Brooks is the ringleader of one of the nation's stingiest defenses and will lead the Tigers in their quest for a third consecutive bowl appearance and a shot at the Southeastern Conference championship. All-SEC cornerback Norman Jefferson, all-league defensive end Roland Barbay and noseguard Henry Thomas will again lend quality support. Guard Eric Andolsek and center Nacho Albergamo anchor an improved offensive line. There is outstanding talent at wide receiver in Rogie Magee and Wendell Davis. Biggest question mark is the offensive backfield where the Tigers have lost quarterback Jeff Wickersham and running backs Dalton Hilliard and Garry James. There are a number of possible replacements with fine potential, but a lack of game experience is a problem.

The Outlook

With 42 returning lettermen from last year's Cherry Bowl championship squad, Maryland should again be one of college football's better teams in 1986. The Terps' wide-tackle six defense has the experience and talent to be outstanding. Twenty-five defensive lettermen are back, including seven starters. Guard Bruce Mesner, an All-ACC selection last fall, anchors a front line which has great potential. Linebackers Richie Petitbon and Chuck Faucette should give Coach Bobby Ross fine play at that position. Although four starters are missing from the offensive interior, there is enough talent on hand to again be solid there. The big question is at quarterback where Stan Gelbaugh must be replaced. Alvin Blount and Tommy Neal give Maryland a good one-two combination at running back. Another key figure for the Terps is sophomore place-kicker Dan Plocki who made 11 of 13 field goals last season.

The Outlook

Clemson returns 53 lettermen and 13 starters as the Tigers shoot for their 10th straight winning record in regular-season play and a sixth bowl appearance in the last 10 campaigns. The leader of Coach Danny Ford's offense will be Heisman Trophy candidate Kenny Flowers, an All-ACC player a year ago when he rushed for 1,052 yards and 13 touchdowns. Guard John Phillips is the lone returning starter in the offensive line, but he is all-conference material. Ray Williams and Terrance Roulhac give Clemson a pair of big-play wide receivers with both of last year's top quarterbacks, Rodney Williams and Randy Anderson, also returning. Seven starters from the Independence Bowl are back on defense. Keeping Michael Dean Perry and Terence Mack healthy will be a key to the Tiger front line. The linebacking corp will have to come of age in a hurry, but there is good returning experience in the secondary.

The Outlook

Virginia will be shooting for its fourth straight winning season in 1986. The Cavaliers, 6-5 last fall, have not accomplished that since six consecutive winning campaigns from 1947 to 1952. Coach George Welsh returns 31 lettermen, including 10 starters from a year ago. Biggest concern is the offensive line where all five starters must be replaced. Although leading rusher Barry Word is gone, the Cavaliers still have solid running backs with Kevin Morgan and Howard Petty. Quarterback Don Majkowski will again trigger the attack and he has a fine group of receivers. Majkowski threw for seven touchdowns last year and scored six himself. Defensively, seven regulars are back. Kevin Gould heads up a secondary which has good potential. Linebacker Sean Scott rates as an all-star candidate up front.

The Outlook

With 33 returning lettermen, Duke hopes to improve on last season's 4-7 record. Offensively, the Blue Devils are strong at the skilled positions with veterans Steve Slayden, Doug Green and Greg Flanagan keying the passing attack and starters Stanley Monk and Tracy Smith leading the ground game. Slayden threw for 1,937 yards last fall with Green making 51 catches. The offensive line must be rebuilt, however, with center Paul Constantino the only returning starter. The defensive front lost its two starting tackles, but is in good shape with veterans Craig Owens and Murray Youmans. The linebacking corp is solid with the return of All-America candidate Mike Junkin and promising juniors Andy Andreasik and Jim Godfrey. Three of four starters are missing from the secondary, but there is experience there and a lot of talent. The kicking game needs to be better than last year and should be. Duke has the top returning punter in the ACC in Anthony Dilweg and an outstanding freshman, Doug Peterson, to handle the place-kicking.

The Educational Foundation

Moyer Smith

Neal Harrell

John Cherry

One of the most important organizations in the Carolina Athletic Department is the University's Educational Foundation.

It is the Educational Foundation which makes possible all athletic scholarships awarded by Carolina.

These scholarships, either partial or full, will go to 396 athletes. The scholarship budget has more than doubled in the last six years. The 1986-87 budget will be $2.1 million, of which approximately $800,000 will go to women's scholarships.

"Since its inauguration in 1938, the Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, for over 4,000 student-athletes," says Ernie Williamson, the Foundation's executive vice-president.

Williamson feels the overall bonus of being a Foundation member is helping a worthy young student obtain a college education. He says the high caliber young athlete who is awarded a scholarship is a great representative of the University.

Any donation to the Foundation is welcome. However, membership in the Rams Club is restricted to those who contribute $150 or more.

Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program was started in 1968 and has already surpassed the $12,000,000 mark.

The endowment program consists of $50,000 endowed scholarships—$50,000 endowed scholarships through insurance, life memberships, wills and bequests and a pooled income program.

The Foundation operates on a dignified and realistic plane in compliance with all of the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Other members of the Foundation staff are Moyer Smith, John Cherry, Neal Harrell and Allen Morris. Along with Williamson, Mary Baggett, Wendy Mann, Terri Maynor, Jean Jay, and Dawn McPherson, they have made the Foundation better able to serve its members.

"We couldn't have the type program we do without the Educational Foundation," says Athletic Director John Swofford. "We've enlarged our staff in the last several years and I think the staff additions we have made will enable us to do a better job for our members."

The Foundation offices will be moved to the Smith Center this fall in the north end of the natatorium. This additional space will help the Foundation staff better serve the membership.

Ernie Williamson

The man who stands at the helm of the Educational Foundation is popular Ernie Williamson, the executive vice-president.

The former star Carolina tackle is one of the most active individuals on the Tar Heel sports scene. He is constantly on the go—talking with Foundation members, speaking to prospective members or avidly following all of Carolina's athletic teams.

Williamson is a Carolina graduate with A.B. and M.A. degrees. The native of Crewe, Va., played one season of football here under Carl Snavely and was regarded as an outstanding tackle. He was lured away to professional football and played with New York and Washington before a knee injury ended his career.

Williamson returned to Chapel Hill to finish work on his degrees and then went to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He was an assistant coach there for two years and head coach for three seasons.

He returned to Carolina in 1957 to accept his present position. At one time he also served as a recruiter for the football program.

Ernie is married to the former Elva Smith of Lawrenceville, Va. They have a son, Wayne, and a daughter, Carole.

Carolina's 1,000-Yard Rushers

1,000 yards.

That's the magic figure for any runner in football.

Call him a halfback, a running back, a tailback, an I-Back or whatever you want. But, when he rushes for 1,000 yards, you simply call him something special.

Nowhere in college football have there been more special runners than at the University of North Carolina.

In the last 17 years Tar Heel tailbacks have rushed for over 1,000 yards on 17 occasions. That gives Carolina more 1,000-yard backs than anyone else in collegiate history.

The University of Southern California has produced sixteen 1,000-yard rushers. That's the second-highest total in the game and puts the Tar Heels and the Trojans well ahead of everyone else.

In a 12-year period from 1973 to 1984, Carolina had at least one player break the 1,000-yard mark each season.

Three times in that 12-year stretch, the Tar Heels had two tailbacks get 1,000 yards in the same season. Other schools have also had two players get 1,000 yards in the same year, but in all those instances the two played different positions and were in the game together. Only at Carolina have the two actually shared the same spot—tailback in the Tar Heels' I-formation.

Tailback at Carolina, in fact, has become the glamour position in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Year in and year out, more attention goes to Tar Heel tailbacks than to players at any other position at any other school in the league. To be a tailback at Carolina, one has to be a superb athlete, one of the nation's best players, someone special.

How has Carolina been able to produce so many 1,000-yard backs?

Certainly, having outstanding runners has been a major factor. But, other schools also have had great backs and haven't been able to compile the figures of Carolina. For example, the Tar Heels have had more 1,000-yard rushers than Alabama, Notre Dame and Penn State combined.

No, there are also other reasons, the most important of which are probably fine offensive linemen, belief in the I-formation and tradition. Those reasons also hold true for Southern California.

Carolina and USC have each had two players rush for 1,000 yards three times—Mike Voight and Kelvin Bryant of the Tar Heels and the Trojans' Charles White and Anthony Davis.

Amos Lawrence

Mike Voight

In addition, Carolina's Amos Lawrence had an amazing four 1,000-yard seasons. He and Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett are the only major college players ever to hit the 1,000-yard mark four times.

The biggest difference between the tailback systems at Carolina and Southern Cal is that Trojan backs have generally had higher yardage totals. But, USC usually picks one player as its tailback and sticks with him throughout the season. In fact, Southern Cal has never had two backs gain 1,000 yards in the same season.

Carolina, on the other hand, has alternated tailbacks quite a bit, trying to keep a fresh player in the game at all times. When two players split a position, their individual yardage totals obviously aren't as high as those of runners who stay in the game constantly. The Tar Heel philosophy is simply that if you've got two great runners, let them both play. In the long run, both will be more effective.

That's not to say Carolina would never go with a system like USC's. If one runner is clearly better than all others, he will get the majority of the playing time. For example, Don McCauley rushed for 1,720 yards in 1970. At that time that broke O.J. Simpson's all-time NCAA single-season yardage record. Still, McCauley's backup, Ike Oglesby, had 562 yards.

McCauley is Carolina's only 1,000-yard back not from either North Carolina or Virginia. He is a native of Garden City, N.Y.

Horton, Bryant, Tyrone Anthony, James Betterson and Sammy Johnson are all North Carolinians. Lawrence and Voight grew up in Virginia.

All have played professional football. McCauley and Bryant have had the most success to date. McCauley played with the Baltimore Colts for 11 seasons and broke many of the club's rushing and scoring records set by Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore. Bryant was the USFL Player of the Year in the league's first season and is regarded as one of the top two or three runners in the pro game. Horton was the first running back chosen in the 1985 NFL draft.

Horton and Johnson were recruited as quarterbacks. All of the others were high school halfbacks, although McCauley was best known as a defensive back.

These players have turned in some of the greatest individual performances in ACC history. In fact, Carolina players have had the three best rushing days in league history. Lawrence holds the ACC rushing record with 286 yards against Virginia in 1977. McCauley has the second-best figure with 279 yards against Duke in 1970. Third on the ACC rushing list is Voight's 261 yards against Duke in 1976.

Top single-season efforts ever in the ACC were McCauley's 1,720 yards in 1970 and Voight's 1,407 in 1976.

It has been performances like that which have made Carolina's tailback position what it is—a spot filled with tradition, a spot for special players, a spot for 1,000-yard rushers.

Choo Choo

The Incomparable Charlie Justice

There is an understandable tendency by sports fans to be wary when an athlete is called "the absolute greatest ever" or "the best who ever played."

It is so difficult to compare athletes of the past with those of today that such descriptions are generally regarded as exaggerations of overzealous publicists.

Even with that in mind, however, it is undeniably safe to say that the greatest all-around football player ever to wear Carolina Blue was Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice.

Some have even said Charlie Justice was the best all-around player in the history of the South. We won't go that far even though there's a good chance it's true. We don't want to make our readers too wary.

Charlie Justice was more than just a great football player. He was a bonafide superstar... a hero... a legend in his own time. He had an impact on his home state as no other athlete had ever had before or few have had since.

During his four years in Chapel Hill, from 1946 to 1949, Justice helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowl games. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's number one college football team. The Tar Heels ended that year rated third, the best finish in school history.

It is no wonder then he was held in great esteem by everyone in the state. Certainly, the time was right for a hero like Charlie Justice. The war had just ended and people wanted to turn their attention to more pleasant things. They wanted someone to make them forget the trauma they had just suffered. So they looked for heroes and they found Charlie Justice.

In his book, They Made the Bell Tower Chime, the late Bob Quincy summed up Charlie Justice's college career quite succinctly. An excerpt is repeated here:

The Justice Era of 1946-49 was the most exciting in Carolina's football history. Charlie was the ringleader of a circus of thrills. He set the pace, but his backing was superb. Carl Snavely had so many football players he couldn't have named them all had he taken a memory course. The Tar Heels operated from the single wing with the kind of variations that at times resembled the Harlem Globetrotters' pre-game ball-handling act. The four seasons netted 32 victories, seven losses and two deadlocks. Plus three major bowl appearances.

The 170-pound Justice was one of the nation's most sought-after players when he enrolled at Carolina. Some called him the hottest property in the history of football at that time. He had been a standout at Asheville's Lee Edwards High, leading the Maroons to two unbeaten seasons. He was All-Southern two years at Asheville, and as a member of the Shrine Bowl football team in 1942 he scored three touchdowns against South Carolina, a record that still stands.

Pictures by Hugh Morton

The Navy became home for Charlie during the war years, and he became a phantom on a pro-studded Bainbridge Navy squad. After two years of romping for Bainbridge against opponents across the country, he was a target for pro offers from the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington.

Charlie wanted an education, and scouts stayed in pursuit. He chose Chapel Hill after seriously considering South Carolina and Duke. An off-hand remark by Snavely—"I hope he comes out for football"—became a classic understatement.

Justice was all his press clippings indicated—and more.

Smart! Example: In the Virginia Tech opener, Justice had two kicks blocked. He bristled and vowed it would never happen again. It didn't during his collegiate career.

After Virginia Tech's 14-14 stalemate, a shocker to say the least, the Tar Heels played at Miami. Early in the game, Justice went back to punt. The Hurricane came hard with an all-out rush to block him. He faked the kick and ripped off a 65-yard touchdown run.

In the Virginia game his freshman year he gained 170 yards in 17 carries with runs of 18, 40 and 56 yards. He had seen little practice because of a leg injury, but the Cavaliers were certain he carried a spare appendage.

Choo Choo (he acquired the name at Bainbridge when a gob remarked, "He runs along just like a choo choo train.") was excitement. He was all eagerness on the sidelines and all business when he moved into the tailback slot. He thrived on duty, and he was a master of the quick kick, a devastating rusher, a good passer, and a fake artist who could charm a cobra.

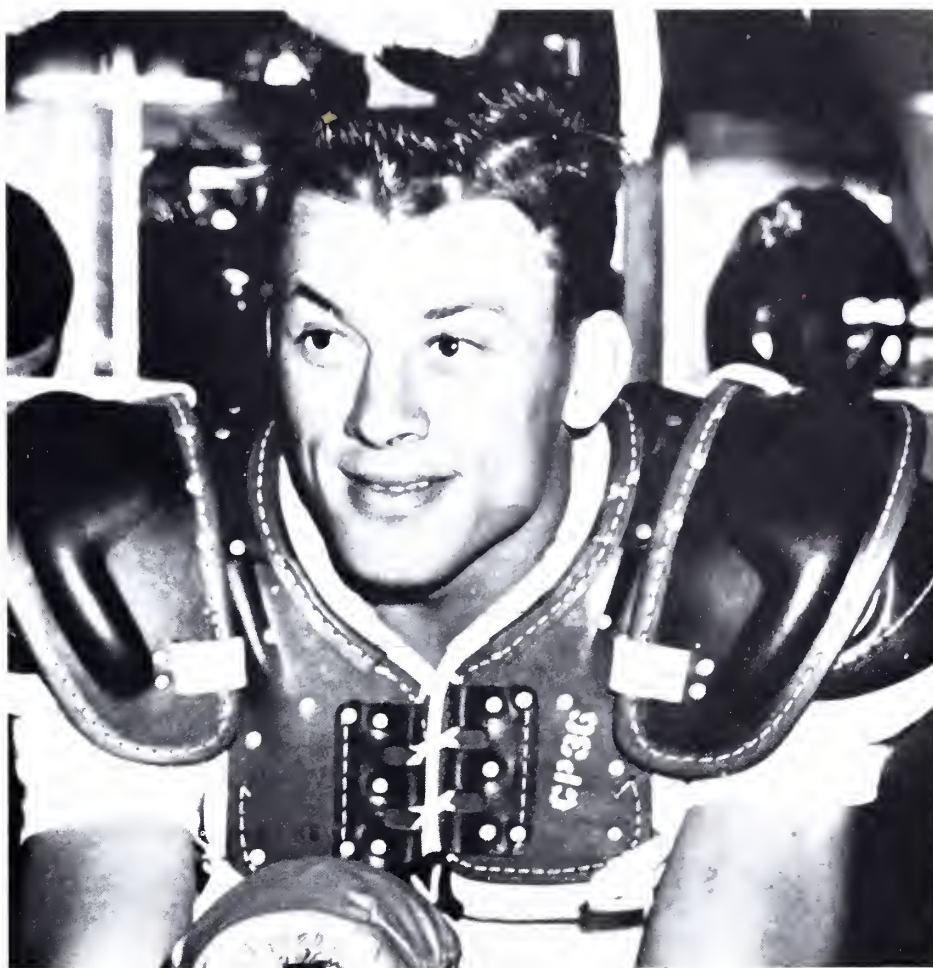

Jack Fitch, a thick-legged back who occasionally shared duty with Justice when not playing the wing, sized up Charlie's style by noting, "Justice has the ability to be running at full speed, stop suddenly, and then be back at full speed almost instantly. He was never regarded as fast in terms of a track man. He had a change of pace that couldn't be matched, and he knew how to follow blockers as well as any back I've ever watched."

Justice was blessed by having excellent blocking backs in front of him (Joe Wright, Don Hartig, Eddie Knox, Paul Rizzo, Bobby Weant) and two fullbacks in Hosea Rodgers and Walt Pupa who could pass as well as run. Pupa had been a tailback in pre-war years.

The Snavely system called for a spinning fullback, fakes and counter fakes, fullback pass plays and reverses. It was a dashing brand of football made more exciting by men who had the ability and maturity to accept Snavely's often complicated maneuvers.

A book, "Choo Choo," documents the career of Charlie Justice. He was a folk hero and deserved the special treatment. The great Benny Goodman and the late Johnny Long recorded the Campbell-Beebe song, "All the Way Choo Choo." It sold by the thousands.

Typical of Justice was the Georgia game of 1948. He scored three times against the Bulldogs in a 21-14 triumph, the climax being an 84-yard punt return. At mid-way point that season, the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Justice erased more records than a company of auditors during his four years at UNC. He scored 234 points and passed or ran for 64 touchdowns. As a ball carrier he accumulated 2,634 yards.

His total offense record is still in the books at 4,883 yards. His punting average for four years was 42.6 yards per kick for 231 boots. Justice also was a dependable defensive player, going both ways on occasion for the Tar Heels and also as a Redskin.

Justice seemed to peak when the traditional games were being played. He led the Tar Heels to four straight wins over Duke. He was an All-America mention as a freshman and made many of the major teams as a junior and as a senior. He was runner-up for the Heisman Trophy to Doak Walker of SMU in 1949.

Charlie's finest moment came in the College All-Star Game of 1950 at Chicago's Soldier Field. He was voted the MVP of the game for good reason. The All-Stars walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, led by Steve Van Buren, 17-7. Justice gained 133 yards individually, or 48 more than the Eagles posted as a team. He set up a touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Eddie LeBaron of College of the Pacific.

Every year since Charlie's departure from Chapel Hill, someone has a "find" who is labeled as "the next Charlie Justice." No player has yet come up to Choo Choo's standards. Good runners, yes! Expert passers, yes! Booming punters, yes! But for endurance, ability to dazzle the crowd and overall quality, there was only one Charlie Justice.

Carolina Linebackers

The most dynamic defensive player in the National Football League is Lawrence Taylor, the sensational linebacker of the New York Giants and another in a long line of standouts at that position from the University of North Carolina.

Taylor swept into the NFL in 1981 as few rookies ever have. He not only was the league's Rookie of the Year, but also the NFL Defensive Player of the Year as well. In his five seasons with the Giants he has established himself as the outside linebacker with whom all others must be compared.

Of course, Taylor's success has come as no surprise to those who had followed his great career at Carolina.

And the fact Taylor played for the Tar Heels was no surprise to NFL fans. Carolina has been turning out star linebackers for years.

The biggest star of them all may well be Taylor. The second player chosen in the NFL draft, Taylor actually helped turn the Giant franchise around. New York, which had only a 4-12 record in 1980, improved to 9-7 in Taylor's first year there. The Giants made the playoffs for the first time since 1963.

The major reason for that improvement was an outstanding defense featuring Taylor. The New York offense wasn't great by any means, but the defense was strong enough to offset that. In his first year in the league Taylor received more votes than any other NFC player in balloting for the Pro Bowl.

Taylor has been an All-Pro selection in all five of his NFL season and has also been in the Pro Bowl each year. Three times he has been named the Defensive Player of the Year.

Taylor had similar success at Carolina. He was a consensus All-America and the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in his senior season. During that 1980 season he led a Tar Heel defense which helped Carolina post an 11-1 record, equalling the most wins in school history.

However, as mentioned earlier, Taylor was not the first Tar Heel linebacker to reach stardom in the NFL. The year before Taylor entered the league, the NFL's best rookie linebacker was Buddy Curry of the Atlanta Falcons. Curry had won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors at Carolina in 1977 and 1979.

Two former Tar Heel linebackers helped their teams reach the Super Bowl in the 1970's. Chris Hanburger sparked a Redskin defense which took Washington to Super Bowl VII. John Bunting was a key performer for the Philadelphia Eagles when they reached Super Bowl XV.

While Hanburger and Bunting were two of the NFL's premier linebackers during the 1970's, two of the league's best in the 1960's were also former Tar Heels—Rip Hawkins of the Minnesota Vikings and Bill Koman of the St. Louis Cardinals.

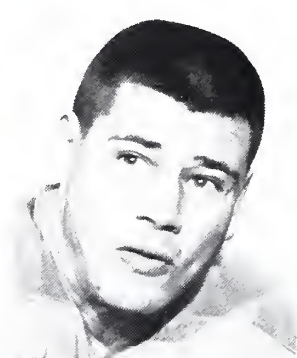

Like Curry, Hanburger and Hawkins were also two-time All-ACC choices during their college days. Jimmy DeRatt, a Carolina linebacker in the 1970's, also won all-conference honors twice.

Other Tar Heel linebackers who have made the All-ACC team since 1970 are Bunting, Taylor, Bill Richardson, Mike Mansfield, Darrell Nicholson, Lee Shaffer, Chris Ward, Mike Wilcher and Micah Moon.

Wilcher is one of the NFL's best young defenders today. He moved into the Los Angeles Rams' starting lineup last fall and was chosen for the Pro Bowl.

In addition to Taylor, Curry and Wilcher, other Carolina linebackers still active in the NFL are Calvin Daniels of the Kansas City Chiefs and Shelton Robinson of the Seattle Seahawks.

While it is foolish to state emphatically that the first forward pass was thrown by a North Carolina football team, certain records would indicate as much. No less an authority than John Heisman himself credits the Tar Heels with the game's first pass.

The scene was Atlanta on October 26, 1895. Carolina and Georgia were locked in a scoreless struggle in the game's closing moments. The Tar Heels were in a punting situation deep in their own territory. Here is an account of what then happened as reported by Heisman in a 1928 edition of Collier's Weekly:

"The North Carolina fullback retreated until the crossbar of his goal was above his head and from the Georgia stands came the exhortation to 'block it, block it, block it.'

"And Georgia's forwards, gathering all their waning strength and riding over North Carolina's tired defense, might have blocked it and even scored, had the sturdy boy from North Carolina kicked.

"But instead of punting into the leaping bodies of those onrushing Georgians, he ran a few mincing steps to the right. Raising the ball to his shoulder he tossed it.

"Luck was with the boy. The ball was caught by a North Carolinian. Now as we know forward passes, it wasn't much. It traveled a few yards and laterally as well as forward. It may have appeared to the spectators that it had been knocked from that fullback's hands.

"At any rate the lad who caught it ran 70 yards for a touchdown!

"I had seen the first forward pass in college football. It was illegal, of course. Already Pop Warner, the Georgia coach, was storming at the referee. But the referee had not seen the North Carolina lad, goaded to desperation, toss the ball. A touchdown had been made and a touchdown it remained."

Other accounts of the game do not mention the forward pass. However, George Stephens is credited with a 70-yard touchdown run in the game.

At any rate, Heisman wrote that he immediately saw the possibilities that the forward pass had. He personally wrote Walter Camp about the play.

The forward pass was discussed for several years. It became a part of the rules at Camp's suggestion in 1906.

Certainly, the idea of the pass had to come from something. It may well have been Carolina's strange play in 1895.

Carolina's Bowl History

North Carolina has played in 15 post-season bowl games, including 11 in the last 16 years.

Carolina's post-season trips have been to the Sugar Bowl in 1947 and 1949; the Cotton Bowl in 1950; the Peach Bowl in 1970, 1976 and 1983; the Sun Bowl in 1972, 1974 and 1982; the Liberty Bowl in 1977; the Bluebonnet Bowl in 1980; and the Gator Bowl in 1963, 1971, 1979 and 1981.

The Tar Heels' bowl history started in the late Forties when Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice was running wild from the single wing. Carolina went to bowl games three times during the Justice Era, but lost all three.

Perhaps the most famous of those games was the 1947 Sugar Bowl which matched Carolina against Georgia. The game produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history. Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score and eventually won the game.

Carolina returned to the Sugar Bowl two years later and lost to Oklahoma, 14-6. Justice had a great day for the Tar Heels, clicking off runs of 10, 13, 25, 11 and 14 yards. He punted four times for 65, 65, 57, and 53 yards.

Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but Carolina lost to Rice, 27-13.

The Tar Heels' next bowl appearance came in the 1963 Gator Bowl where Carolina walloped the Air Force, 35-0. Ken Willard was the big star that day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the runaway victory.

In the 1970 Peach Bowl the Tar Heels dropped a wild 48-26 decision to unbeaten Arizona State. All-America tailback Don McCauley had 143 yards rushing and three touchdowns for Carolina. But a second-half snowstorm and an injury to quarterback Paul Miller helped the Sun Devils to race to victory.

The 1971 Gator Bowl produced a bowl first—brothers opposing each other as coaches in bowl competition. It matched Vince Dooley of Georgia against Bill of Carolina. The game was a great defensive struggle in which the Bulldogs came from behind to win, 7-3.

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic was the big star, completing 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards. He fired a 62-yard scoring strike to Ted Leverenz to help the Tar Heels to a 24-21 halftime lead.

Tech came back to go ahead, 28-24, but Vidnovic hit Leverenz with a 13-yard TD pass with just a minute to play to bring Carolina back. The Tar Heels then added two more points when Ronnie Robinson dropped Raider quarterback Joe Barnes for a safety.

Mike Voight and James Betterson had big days rushing in the 1974 Sun Bowl, but Mississippi State won another thriller, 26-24. The Tar Heels put on a desperation drive in the game's closing moments, but were stopped on a fourth-and-one at their own 48-yard line.

Playing without the injured Voight, Carolina lost to Kentucky, 21-0, in the 1976 Peach Bowl. The Tar Heels had trouble all day with a tough Wildcat defense.

Carolina dropped a heartbreaking 21-17 decision to Nebraska in the 1977 Liberty Bowl. Sparked by quarterback Matt Kupec, the Tar Heels held a 17-7 lead going into the fourth period. However, the Cornhuskers rallied behind reserve quarterback Randy Garcia to score their come-from-behind victory.

Kupec and Amos Lawrence were the big stars in Carolina's 17-15 win over Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl. Kupec directed a 97-yard touchdown drive in the third quarter which put the Tar Heels ahead to stay (14-9). Jeff Hayes later added a 32-yard field goal. Michigan scored with 1:28 left to cut the lead to two, but a two-point pass failed.

Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes, while Lawrence ran for 118 yards. They were named co-MVPs.

Lawrence again was the big star in Carolina's 16-7 win over Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl. He rushed for 104 yards and had a 59-yard touchdown run. Carolina's other scoring came on a short plunge by Kelvin Bryant and a field goal by Hayes. A key factor in this game was the Carolina defense which limited the Longhorns to just two first downs and only 36 yards of total offense in the second half. Lawrence topped Bryant in voting for the game's outstanding offensive player, while Steve Streater edged Lawrence Taylor in balloting for the defensive MVP.

Bryant and his backup, Ethan Horton, both had big nights as Carolina defeated Arkansas, 31-27, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Horton added 144. They shared the MVP award.

Horton again was the big star in 1982 as Carolina came from behind to defeat seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10, in the Sun Bowl. Coming off the bench in the second half for an injured Bryant, Horton rushed for 119 yards and won MVP honors. Sparked by his play, the Tar Heels rallied from a 10-3 halftime deficit.

However, Horton was not the only Carolina star. The Tar Heel defense, which made two brilliant goal line stands, shut down the Texas attack in the second half. Rob Rogers and Brooks Barwick each kicked two field goals despite weather conditions which featured a wind chill factor of 12 degrees and snow throughout the game.

Carolina suffered its first bowl loss under Dick Crum in the 1983 Peach Bowl. Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and was never headed in a 28-3 victory. The Tar Heels hurt themselves badly with a fumbled punt which allowed FSU to go just 16 yards for its third touchdown and penalties which killed two drives of their own.
